This Original Application was filed on 31.8.1998. The applicant is aggrieved by an order dated 28.8.1998 placing her under suspension without conveying the grounds for passing such an order.

2. The counter states that the suspension order was issued after "proper application of mind" by the competent authority because of an alleged bomb scare call allegedly traced to the residential telephone number of the applicant. On further investigation, we are told the Police filed a complaint under Section 182 of the Indian Penal Code.

3. The learned Addl. Solicitor General submits referring to his reply that the applicant has not exhausted alternative remedy of filing an appeal under Rule 23(1) of the Central Civil Services (Classification, Control & Appeal) Rules, 1965 (In short 'CCS(CCA) Rules'. This is a statutory remedy by which a Government servant can prefer an appeal against the order of suspension made or deemed to have been made under Rule 10 of the CCS(CCA) Rules. Admittedly the applicant has not exhausted this alternative remedy because besides the bare suspension order no other material has been furnished to the applicant on the basis of which she can spell out the grounds of appeal.

4. We have heard the learned counsel of parties. It is very clear on the basis of a decision of Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of B. Parameshwara Rao Vs. The Divisional Engineer, Telecommunications, CAT (FB) Vol. II 250 this O.A. cannot be admitted without the applicant exhausting the alternative remedy. The following other decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in this context are relevant -

1. Ram and Shyam Company v. State of Haryana and others - AIR 1985 SC 1147
2. Titaghur Paper Mills Co. Ltd. and another Vs. State of Orissa and others - AIR 1983 SC 603.
3. S.S. Rathore v. State of M.P. - AIR 1990 SC 10
4. Kailash Chandra Vs. Union of India - AIR 1961 SC 1346.

The law is now very well settled that unless alternative remedies are exhausted, particularly, a statutory remedy, the O.A. cannot be entertained by this Tribunal.

5. The submissions of the respondents' counsel relating to non-furnishing of supporting material are summed up from the counter filed. Under the existing instructions charges to the Government servant should be finalised within three months from the date of suspension. If for some reasons or the other it is not possible to complete this process within the time limit prescribed, the reasons for suspension should be communicated to the Government servant immediately after the expiry of the prescribed time limit. The respondents, we are informed, will endeavour either to serve the charge sheet or the reasons for suspension within a reasonable period of time. Although under the instructions where the reasons for suspension are communicated on the expiry of the time limit prescribed for issue of charge sheet, the time limit of 45 days is counted for filing an appeal from the date on which reasons of suspension are communicated, we advise the respondents to ensure that the reasons for suspension as well as if possible the charge sheet itself be communicated to the applicant as early as possible to enable her to file the statutory appeal before the prescribed period. The spirit of the instructions mandates all necessary steps be taken to enable an affected

Government servant to exercise his/her statutory right of appeal.

6. In the result, the O.A. is dismissed as premature.
