2. I have heard applicant's counsel Shri D.N.Sharma and Respondents' counsel Shri Dhawan. I have also perused the replies filed by respondent, including Respondent No.4 the State Bank of India, Mathura Branch.

3. In R-4's reply it is stated that as per PPO received by them applicant was sanctioned pension of Rs.889/- p.m. Simultaneously applicant had got commuted Rs.296/- p.m. of the aforesaid pension reducing the same to Rs.593.00 p.m. but through oversight, while completing the disbursement related formalities at the bank level, applicant was released pension at the rate of Rs.889/- p.m., and this error continue till it was detected in October, 1997. Thus applicant received an excess amount of Rs.20,424.00, which they are proceeding to recover from him.

4. Manifestly the cause of action, if any which arose to applicant clearly lies against State Bank of India (R-4) who does not come within the Tribunal's jurisdiction, and not against any of the official respondents.
