ORDER (ORAL)

Shri Justice V.S. Malimath.

The direction is to release the pension, gratuity, if any, commutation permissible under the law, balance of G.P.F and other pensionary benefits to the petitioner within a period of three months. The respondents have filed a statement to the effect that they have paid all the dues to the petitioner by way of retirement benefits which includes a sum of Rs.38,788/- as DCRG, Rs.46,147/- as commutation value and interest on these amounts @ 10 per cent till the amount was paid which has been quantified as Rs.22,673/-. All these amounts have been paid. Shri Kalia, learned counsel for the petitioner, however, submitted that the petitioner is entitled to interest on the pension. The direction in the judgement, as can be seen from paragraph 7, is to pay interest in regard to the amounts to be paid as per the directions of the judgement. So far as the pension is concerned, it has already been released before the judgement was rendered sometime in February, 1993. Hence, no question of interest being paid on the amount of pension which was released in February, 1993 would arise. We are, therefore, satisfied that the judgement of the Tribunal has been fully complied with. These proceedings are accordingly dropped.
