The main ground alleged in the application is that the sons of the applicants were minors in the year of the Railway strike in 1974 and, therefore, could not avail of the concession stated to have been granted by the Railway Administration for the employees who ~~did~~ not participate in the Railway Employees under the so called Loyal Quota. The applicants have not shown any material to substantiate the claim and do not have any vested right in such appointment of their sons at this stage. The application ~~is~~, therefore, besides being belated, is misconceived and devoid of merit and is dismissed in limine.
