ORDER

Hon'ble Dr. K.B.S.Rajan, Member(J)

As these two O.As. revolve around the same subject matter though these were independently heard, the common order is passed.

The applicant, in these O.As. were deputed to the Telecom Department as could be seen from Annexure-A/1 order dated 23.03.1995. However, no deputation allowance was granted to them. Subsequently, as late as October 2007, the applicants were repatriated to the parent department. The applicants have claimed deputation allowance/special pay.

Respondents have contended that the applicants do not qualify for special pay as the same is payable for performing duties of arduous nature or in any specific additional responsibility, whereas the applicants have been asked to perform certain duties at only one place on account of shortage of man power. Be that as it may, provision relating to grant of deputation allowance are clear vide F.R.No. 9(25)-as long as the transfer is outside the normal field of deployment and is in public interest, deputation allowance cannot be denied.

In view of the above, it is clear that the applicants are entitled to deputation allowance at the rate of 5%/10% as the case may be for the entire period from the date of they being deputed to the department of Telecom till the date of their repatriation.

The O.A. is allowed and the Respondents are directed to release the deputation allowances at the rate fixed by the Government for the entire period from 1995 to 2007 when the applicants were on deputation.

These orders be complied with within eight weeks from the
