: O R D E R :

(per Hon'ble Mr. Justice O.P. Garg)

In all these three cases, common questions of facts and law arise, and hence, we are disposing all of them by this common judgement.

2. In these Applications the moot point for determination is whether illiterate persons are to be provided helpers for reproducing in writing the replies given by them orally. The applicants are working on the post of FGM SK and they are seeking promotion to the post FGM HS-II for which a written test is required. Since The applicants are illiterate persons, they are not in a position to write. The departmental authorities in the past have provided the facility of helper to those persons who were illiterate and were actually promoted to the higher post. This facility is being denied to the applicants. Aggrieved, the applicants have come up before this Tribunal by filing these three applications under Section 19 of the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985.

3. Earlier this Tribunal had directed the respondents to produce a copy of the Notification or the Rules or orders making a provision for providing a helper to illiterate persons. Shri Kuldeep Mathur, learned counsel for the respondents states that no such notification or order is available, making a provision for deputing a helper with the illiterate persons in a written test. He has produced before us a letter dated 15.09.2001, written by the Garrison Engineer, Lalgarh Jattan. Shri Kuldeep Mathur frankly concedes that there is no prohibition for providing a helper in a written test to a illiterate employee. The answers given orally are written for record, with a view to test the technical knowledge of the employee concerned, whose case is to be considered for the purpose of promotion.

4. It appears that a different yardstick is being applied by the departmental authorities in not providing helpers to the applicants in the written test while such a facility has admittedly been extended in the past to the other illiterate employees. There does not appear to be any plausible reason to deny the benefit of a helper to the applicants in the absence of any prohibition or orders to the contrary. We feel that it would be proper and in all fairness justified if the benefit of a helper is extended to the applicants in the written test for promotion.

5. In the result, we find that the applicants have made out a genuine grievance. We finally dispose of all the three applications (OA No. 278/1998, OA No. 203/1998 and OA No. 220/1999), with a direction to the respondents that the test for promotion of the applicants for the post of FGM HS-II shall be taken within a period of three months from the date the certified copy of this order is served on the respondents/competent authority. During the said written test, the applicants shall be provided the helpers to ^{write} ~~wright~~ the answers of the replies given by the applicants orally to the questions put to them. No order as to costs.
