Applicant seeks a direction to promote him as a Postman. It is said for filling up of the vacancy of Postman, an examination was held on 20.12.92. Applicant was allowed to appear, and it is stated by him that he obtained 137 out of 150 marks (Annexure A5). Despite the high marks, he was not selected, though there were ten vacancies, says applicant.

2 Respondents would submit that there was only one vacancy to be filled up. According to them, the remaining nine vacancies should go to persons in the earlier waiting list. So, there was only a solitary vacancy reserved for members of the Scheduled Tribe. It is not easy to see the logic behind all these statements.

3 We do not know, how nine persons happened to be in the waiting list, how long they were on the waiting list or who they were. Annexure A9 gives an indication that there cannot be such a waiting list. We do not see why applicant who is not member of a Scheduled Tribe should have been allowed to take the examination for a solitary vacancy reserved for Scheduled Tribe. Again, if nine persons waiting in the earlier waiting list could be accommodated, applicant as well could be accommodated as a wait listed candidate and appointed in a future vacancy. A fact adjudication is necessary to ascertain the correct position. If applicant files a detailed appeal/ representation before the Chief Postmaster General, within one month from to-day, the Chief Postmaster General shall take a decision thereon within two months from the date of receipt the appeal/ representation, having due regard to the circumstances hereinbefore noticed.

4 With these directions application is disposed of.
No costs.
