ORDER

CHETTUR SANKARAN NAIR(J), VICE CHAIRMAN:

Applicant who has taken an examination for appointment as a Group 'C' employee (and failed in one paper) seeks a declaration that he is "entitled" to "grace" marks. According to applicant he has performed 'very well' and A4 circular provides for grant of grace marks. Anything that is by way of 'grace', cannot be an 'entitlement'.

2. There are areas where on the basis of subjective opinion (for example - that he has 'performed very well') of those who consider themselves aggrieved, an investigation cannot be instituted. Only those who are aggrieved, in the sense that a legal right of theirs is injured, can maintain an action. A roving enquiry on suspicion, is not referable to the process of judicial review.

3. Be that as it may, standing counsel submits that A3 representation will be considered on merits and as sympathetically as possible and appropriate orders passed thereon within one month from today.

4. We record the submission and dispose of the application. No costs.

Dated the 24th January, 1996.
