Mr. O.V. Radhakrishnan for R-3

ORDER

N. DHARMADAN

A retrenched E.D. Agent has filed this application under section 19 of the Administrative Tribunals' Act 1985 for quashing the notice issued to her for terminating her service. She also challenges the appointment of the third respondent as E.D.B.P.M., Thariote North P.O.

2. At the time when the case was taken up for final hearing, the learned counsel for the applicant fairly submitted that the original application can be closed observing that the applicant is a retrenched E.D. Agent eligible to be included in the list of retrenched employees under the first respondent for considering for appointment in any of the future vacancy that may arise in the Calicut Division. <sup>Genlly</sup> The Counsel also submitted that retrenchment compensation already rendered to the applicant may be directed to be given to her without any further delay.

2

3. Having heard learned counsel on both sides, we are satisfied that this original application can be disposed of in the lines suggested by the learned counsel for applicant. Accordingly, we record the submission of the learned counsel for applicant and declare that the applicant is a retrenched E.D. Agent eligible to be included in the list of E.D. Agents kept by the first respondent so as to enable him to consider her for future vacancy that may arise in the Calicut Division. It goes without saying that the first respondent shall send the retrenchment compensation to the applicant without any further delay.

4. The application is disposed of as above.

5. There shall be no order as to costs.
