The application having been heard on 15th July, 1996, the Tribunal on the same day delivered the following:

O R D E R

CHETTUR SANKARAN NAIR(J), VICE CHAIRMAN

Applicant seeks a direction to treat his service from 18.4.1976 as qualifying service for pension. The Railways reckoned fifty percent of the sevice from 1.1.81 to 1.4.88 (date of regularisation) as qualifying servie on the reasoning that it is only service rendered after attainment of temporary status, that counts as qualifying service for pension.

2. This Tribunal has held in a very large number of decisions like O.A. 569/90 of the Ernakulam Bench and O.A.485/91 of the Madras Bench that fifty percent of the casual service rendered after completion of six months continuous service will count for pension. We are bound by this precedent. The attainment of temporary status referable to Inderpal Yadav's case is a different concept. The service in question will count only for pensionary benefits and for no other.

3. We direct respondent Railways to treat fifty percent of the service rendered between 18.4.76 and 1.4.88 as qualifying service for pension, re-compute pensionary benefits and make payments to applicant. This will be done within three months from today, failing which the amounts will attract interest at eighteen percent. In no event shall the payment be beyond six months of today.

4. Original Application is allowed as aforesaid. No costs.

Dated this the 15th day of July, 1996.
