ORDER

CHETTUR SANKARAN NAIR(J), VICE CHAIRMAN:

Though different reliefs are sought by the different applicants before us, the core questions arising for consideration are:

- (a) whether reservation is to be applied on the cadre strength or on the vacancies arising; and
- (b) whether seniority in the lower post among employees belonging to non-reserved and reserved category would be reflected in the higher post, irrespective of earlier promotions obtained by employees belonging to a reserved category.

2. Different Benches of this Tribunal as also the Allahabad High Court have taken the view that reservation is to be applied on the cadre strength. Some of the decisions taking this view are, J.C.Malick & others vs. Union of India and others (Allahabad High Court), 1978 (1) SLR, 844; Vir Pal Singh Chauhan and others vs. Union of India and others, (1987) 4 ATC 685(CAT); G.C.Jain & others vs. Divisional Railway Manager, Central Railway, Jabalpur and another, 1986 Lab I.C. 1809(CAT); Joginder Singh Sethi vs. Punjab Govt. & others, 1983(1) SLR 442 (Punjab and Haryana High Court); Kameswar Sharma and others vs. Union of India and others, (1990) 12 ATC 26(CAT); Ramchandra vs Union of India and others, (1988) 9 ATC 592(CAT) and so on. Appeals are pending against these decisions before the Supreme Court. C.A.No. 2017/78 is one of those appeals. The Supreme Court however directed to implement the decision of the Allahabad High Court in J.C.Malick, 1978 (1) SLR 844 pending decision of the Civil Appeal. The Allahabad Bench of this Tribunal in Vir Pal Singh Chauhan vs. Union of India, (1987) 4 ATC 685 stated the position in unambiguous language:-

"it is clear that reservation is to be made on the basis of posts and not on the basis of vacancies".

We are bound by the uniform precedent and as we have noticed the operation of these has not been stayed by the Supreme Court.

3. The second question is whether seniority in the lower category would be carried over to the higher category, in spite of members belonging to the reserved category getting earlier promotions. The Madras Bench of this Tribunal in O.A.862/90(A3 in O.A.375/93) considered this question and came to the conclusion that the seniority position in the lower cadre, should be reflected in the higher cadre also. According to them fortuitous promotions, gained by application of reservation on arising vacancies, cannot so operate as to bring about excessive reservation or total reservation. The Bench therefore, directed:

"we direct respondents to revise the seniority in the category of Passenger Guards taking into account the actual date of promotion - the date on which they would have been granted promotion but for the preferential treatment based on reservation."

4. The Allahabad Bench of the Tribunal in Vir Pal Singh Chauhan's case, (1987)4 ATC 685 had also observed:

"promotion on the basis of roster can only be termed as fortuitous... a person who was junior and got promoted... by virtue of special provisions cannot claim protection of seniority against his erstwhile senior, who was waiting for his chance but could not be promoted because of the reservation."

5. Shri M.C.Churian appearing for the Railways submitted that this view is no longer good law in the light of the decision of a Full Bench in V.Lakshminarayanan vs. Union of India and others, (1993) 24 ATC FB 420. We are unable to agree. Though the Full Bench expressed opinions on different issues, at the close of the order (paragraph 49), the Full Bench stated:

"... though we have discussed contentions urged by parties, we accept the request of the learned Additional Solicitor General Shri V.R.Reddy and refrain from expressing our final conclusion on the issues arising in this case. We shall await the decision of the Supreme Court in Malick's case."

(emphasis supplied)

It eludes comprehension, why learned counsel cited this decision as an authority for any proposition. Shri P.A.Mohammed, also appearing for the Railways, cited another decision of the Calcutta Bench (Full Bench) of the Tribunal in Durgacharan Halder & others vs. Union of India and others (O.A.854/90). It was observed:

"as we have felt that this case should await the decision of the Supreme Court, we direct all the 5 cases to be listed for final hearing after the Supreme Court rendering its decision in C.A. 2017/78."

We read this, only as an order of adjournment and not as an order laying down any proposition.

6. Following the precedents, we hold:

- (a) that the principle of reservation operates on the cadre strength;
- (b) that seniority vis-a-vis reserved and unreserved categories of employees in the lower category will be reflected in the promoted category also notwithstanding the earlier promotion obtained on the basis of reservation.

Applying these principles, respondents -Railways will work out the reliefs. We are issuing the direction, as the apex Court thought that the judgments in force should be implemented. (Interim orders in C.A 2017/78).

6. These directions shall be carried out within six months from today.

7. Applications are allowed. Parties will bear their costs.

Dated the 6th September, 1994.
