This application, which has not yet been admitted, has come before us today to consider the applicant's application for condonation of delay in filing original application. It transpires that the orders against which this application has been filed were passed on 6.9.84 and 8.10.84. If that were so, the application should have been filed within six months of 1.11.85. By this criterion the application is delayed. In the course of the arguments, in which Sri N. Basavaraju, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri M. Sreerangaiah, learned counsel for the respondents ~~appeared~~ participated, it appeared that the applicant has also filed an appeal before the General Manager in respect of the same grievance on 16.8.85. The General Manager, obviously, cannot take up that appeal when this appeal is pending.

Since the matter is pending in appeal we would like to give the General Manager an opportunity to deal with the grievance of the applicant. Therefore, the question of condonation of delay need not be considered by us. The application is therefore rejected at the admission stage itself with a direction to the General Manager to dispose of the appeal pending before him within three months from the receipt of this order.

In the result the application is disposed of. No order as to costs.
