(Shri M. Sreerangaiah, Advocate) .. Respondents

This application, having come up for hearing,
Shri P. Srinivasan, Hon'ble Member (A) made the following:

ORDER

The grievance of the applicant in this application is that when he was working as a Fitter in the Southern Railway in the grade of Rs 950-1500, he volunteered to be considered for the post of Train Examiner in the 20% quota available for in-service candidates, was admitted to ^{was} the written test, but/ultimately not empanelled for the post, while respondents 4-7 were so empanelled by order dated 26-10-1987 (Annexure D to the application). It transpires that subsequently, another person, namely, Shri E.M.Philips/~~was~~ also empanelled for the post of Train Examiner by an amended order dated 11-5-1988.

2. Shri M.R.Achar, learned counsel for the applicant, appeared for the applicant and questioned the empanelment of respondents 4 to 7 and Shri E.M.Philips and the exclusion of the applicant from the said panel on a number of grounds^H after inspecting the records of the selection produced by the respondents. According to Shri Achar, selection to the 20% quota available for in-service candidates was to be made only from the post of skilled artisans in the grade of 950-1500. R-4 Shri Venkataraju was at the material time working in the highly skilled Grade I carrying a pay scale of 1320-2040, while respondents 5 to 7 namely K.Muthyalliah, S.Khaderbasha and M.Palani, were working in the highly skilled grade^{II} of 1200-1800. These respondents were, therefore, not eligible for selection to the post of Train Examiner in the 20% quota and, therefore, their selection was wrong. The respondents have produced a circular letter dated 6/8-8-1985 laying down the procedure for selection in the 20% quota in which it is stated that skilled staff ^{those in} including/highly skilled grade I and grade II could volunteer for selection in that quota. Upon this, Shri Achar very fairly gave up this contention.

3. Shri Achar then proceeded to challenge the selection on some other grounds. He contended that the marks awarded to persons who took the written test were not rightly recorded and that, therefore, these marks should not have formed the basis of selection. Shri Venkataraju was shown to have obtained 18.2 marks in the written examination and was treated as having failed therein. The total marks for the written examination were 35 and Shri Venkataraju had obtained more than 50%. How could he be treated as having failed, Shri Achar asked? If he had failed, how was he called for interview?

4. Shri Sreerangaiah countered on behalf of the respondents that Shri Venkataraju had not been treated as having failed for the purpose of being called for viva voce test. There were two alternative criteria for calling persons for interview. One was that they should have obtained 60% in the written examination alone i.e. 21 marks or more out of a total of 35 allotted to the written examination. The other was that the marks awarded in the written examination together with separate marks awarded for seniority (for which ^{the total} marks were 15) should exceed 60% of the total marks. Though Shri Venkataraju got only 18.2 marks in the written examination, he was awarded all 15 marks for seniority because he was the seniormost person considered for selection. Thus, out of a total of 50 marks earmarked for written examination and seniority, Shri Venkataraju secured 33.2 i.e. over 60%. He thus qualified for the interview by the second mentioned criterion.

5. We are of the view that Shri Achar's challenge to the selection of Shri Venkataraju cannot be sustained. We have seen the working sheets and the code numbers given to each candidate who appeared for selection from which we are satisfied that the marks said to have been obtained by the candidates are correctly recorded.

We are also satisfied that Shri Venkataraju qualified for the interview by virtue of the second alternative criterion namely securing over 60% of the marks allotted for written examination and seniority taken together. The selection of Shri Venkataraju is, therefore, upheld and the applicant's objection thereto rejected.

6. Next, Shri Achar urged that Shri E.M.Philips was junior to the applicant in the grade of 950-1500, but still he had been preferred to the applicant for being called for interview.

7. Shri Sreerangaiah pointed out that Shri Philips had obtained 21 out of 35 in the written examination and thus qualified by the first of the two alternative criteria for being called for interview. On perusing the records, we find that Shri Sreerangaiah's contention is right. We, therefore, accept his contention and reject the applicant's complaint.

8. The next objection of Shri Achar is that Shri Palani, R-7, had secured a total of 29.35 marks in the written examination and seniority taken together i.e. less than 60%, but yet, he had been called for interview, which was not right.

9. Shri Sreerangaiah clarified that in the written examination, Shri Palani had secured 21.35 marks i.e. over 60%. He was thus qualified for the interview by the first of the two criteria mentioned above and was, therefore, rightly called for interview. The applicant, the other hand, had obtained 17.50 marks out of 35 in the written examination and 7 marks for seniority making a total of 24.50 marks. He, thus, failed to qualify by both the criteria. After perusing the records, we find that Shri Sreerangaiah's contention is correct. We, therefore, reject the applicant's complaint regarding the selection of Shri Palani.

10. Shri Achar, then, contended that the applicant had been denied the opportunity of appearing in the viva voce test, for if he had been allowed to that test, he could have secured more marks therein than the respondents.

11. Shri Sreerangaiah pointed out that according to the rules of the selection, a person who did not obtain 60% in the written examination alone or in the total allotted for written examination and seniority was not eligible to be called for interview. The applicant not having obtained 60% in the written examination or out of the combined total for written examination and seniority, he was not eligible to be called for interview. The question of giving him an opportunity for the viva voce test, therefore, did not arise.

12. We find merit in this contention of Shri Sreerangaiah and, therefore, we reject Shri Achar's contention.

13. Finally, Shri Achar submitted that in the sheets setting out the marks obtained by candidates in the written examination, as also marks awarded for seniority, there were corrections and over-writings and that, therefore, the final list setting out the marks obtained by each candidate was a "shocking list" which should not have been the basis for final selection. Shri Sreerangaiah submitted that the marks set out against each candidate represented a correct assessment and in the absence of any allegation or specific malafides or manipulation,

Shri Achar's contention that the marks noted in the records were not genuine should not be accepted. Here also, we are inclined to agree with Shri Sreerangaiah that though there may be corrections in the original marking sheet, where marks were first awarded, the applicant has not shown that there was any deliberate manipulation or mala fide action to keep the applicant out of the selection. In the absence of proof to the contrary, we must accept the correctness of records maintained in the ordinary course of official business. We have, therefore, no hesitation in rejecting Shri Achar's contention that the marks awarded to the candidates who appeared for selection were not genuine.

14. Since all the contentions raised on behalf of the applicant stand rejected, the application is dismissed. Parties to bear their own costs.
