ORDER

Shri Justice P.K. Shyamsundar, Vice Chairman.

The case was ordered to be posted to 7.12.1993 but with consent of parties, the same was taken up for hearing today and disposed off by this order.

2. The learned standing counsel produced before us a Govt. order in which the Govt. have taken a decision to pay Daily allowance to officers under pre-promotional training which benefit had been stopped earlier. In that connection, there have been several proceedings before this Tribunal in which the Tribunal had taken a consistent view that officers sent up for pre-promotional training were entitled to Daily allowances. Following these decisions, the Govt. have taken the very appropriate decision of continuing the grant of Daily allowance to the officers on pre-promotional training. The order, as we see, covers all those who underwent such training between 1987 and 1992 as a prelude for promotion to higher posts. It also directs refund of amounts recovered from officers on grounds of being disentitled. We place on record the Govt. order.

3. Following the same, we make a direction to the department to abide by the Govt. order supra and pay to the applicants herein the Daily allowance due to them for the period they underwent pre-promotional training within two months from the date of this order.
