ORDER OF THE FULL BENCH

Shri Justice V.S. Malimath, Chairman:

These cases have been placed before the Full Bench as per the directions made by the Chairman by his order dated 23.10.1992 in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 5[4][d] of the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985, after transferring the cases of the Madras and Ernakulam Benches and clubbing them with the cases of the Bangalore Bench. The reason for the reference is the conflicting views taken by different benches, one view having been taken by the Ernakulam Bench in its order made in application K-259/88 dated 20.4.1990 and a contrary view taken by the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench in O.A. No.1572/88 and O.A. Nos.351 to 423/88 respectively. We shall now proceed to state briefly the relevant facts as follows:

2. The applicants in all these cases are employees of the Indian Railways serving in different Divisions as Drivers, Guards, Shunters, etc. who belong to the category called the running staff. The applicants retired from service between 1976 and 4.12.1988. They have in these cases prayed for directions to the respondents to grant them pension and other retirement benefits by taking into account running allowance not exceeding 75% of their pay. The respondents oppose the applications contending that running allowances not exceeding 45% of their pay can be taken into account for computing retirement benefits to those who have retired before 1.4.1979 and not exceeding 55% of the running allowance for those retiring after 1.4.1979. To appreciate the rival contentions, it is necessary to advert to the relevant provisions governing the applicants conditions of service in regard to pension and other retirement benefits.

3. In pursuance of the recommendations of the Third Pay Commission the pay scales of the employees of the Indian Railways including those of the running staff were revised with effect from 1.1.1973 by the rules called 'Railway Servants Revision of Pay Rules, 1973' [hereinafter referred to as the 'Revision of Pay Scale Rules'] made by the President in exercise of the powers conferred by the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution of India. It is enough to state that there was considerable increase in the substantive pay of all the members of the running staff. So far as the grant and quantum of pension is concerned the same is regulated by statutory provisions made under the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution. Pension and other retirement benefits depend upon the average emoluments that the retiring employee was drawing before his retirement. Statutory rules govern the determination of average emolument for grant of pension and other retirement benefits. The relevant statutory rules that were in force when the revision of pay scale rules came into force on 1.1.1973 are extracted as follows:

"2544. [C.S.R. 486] - Emoluments and Average Emoluments: The term "Emoluments", used in these Rules, means the emoluments which the Officer was receiving immediately before his retirement and includes:-

[a] Pay other than that drawn in tenure post;

[b] Personal allowance, which is granted [i] in lieu of loss of substantive pay in respect of a permanent post other than a tenure post, or [ii] with the specific sanction of the Government of India, for any other personal considerations.

Note: Personal pay granted in lieu of loss of substantive pay in respect of a permanent post other than a tenure post shall be treated as personal allowance for the purpose of this article. Personal pay granted on any other personal considerations shall not be treated as personal allowance unless otherwise directed by the President.

[c] fees or commission if they are the authorized emoluments of an appointment, and are in addition to pay. In this case "Emoluments" means the average earnings for the last six months of service;

[d] acting allowance of an Officer without a substantive appointment if the acting service counts under Rule 2409 [C.S.R. 371], and allowances drawn by an Officer appointed provisionally substantively or appointed substantively pro tempore or in an officiating capacity to an office which is substantively vacant and on which no Officer has a lien or to an Office temporarily vacant in consequence of the absence of the permanent incumbent on leave without allowances or on transfer to foreign service;

[e] deputation [duty] allowances;

[f] duty allowances [special pay]; and

[g][i] For the purpose of calculation of average emoluments: Actual amount of running allowances drawn by the Railway servant during the month limited to a maximum of 75% of the other emoluments reckoned in terms of [a] to [f] above.

[ii] For the purpose of gratuity and/or death-cum-retirement gratuity: The monthly average of running allowances drawn during the three hundred and sixty five days of running duty immediately preceding the date of quitting service limited to 75% of the monthly average of the other emoluments reckoned in terms of items [a] to [f] above drawn during the same period.

Note: In the case of an Officer with a substantive appointment who officiates in another appointment or holds a temporary appointment, "Emoluments" means:

[a] the emoluments which would be taken into account under this Rule in respect of the appointment in which he officiates or of the temporary appointments, as the case may be, or

[b] the emoluments which would have been taken into account under this Rule had he remained in this substantive appointment whichever are more favourable to him.

2544-A, [C.S.R. 486-A]: Same as otherwise provided in Rule 2544-B [C.S.R. 86-B]. In respect of Officers retiring from service on or after the 1st November, 1959, the term "emoluments" means the emoluments which the officer was receiving immediately before his retirement and includes:-

[a] substantive pay in respect of a permanent post, other than a tenure post, held in a substantive capacity;

[b] personal allowance which is granted in lieu of loss of substantive pay in respect of a permanent post, other than a tenure post;

[c] special pay attached to a post other than a tenure post, when the special pay has been sanctioned permanently and the post is held in a substantive capacity;

[d][1] For the purpose of calculation of average emoluments:
With effect from 1st September, 1962, save as otherwise provided in Rule 2544-B [C.S.R. 486-B] one-half of:

- i. the difference between the total emoluments referred to in items [a], [b] and [c] above and the pay actually drawn in higher officiating or temporary appointments;
- ii. Special pay other than that referred to in clause [c] above.
- iii. pay drawn in temporary or officiating appointments;
- iv. personal allowance other than that referred to in clause [b] above;
- v. the difference between the substantive pay and the pay actually drawn in higher tenure appointment[s], whether held in substantive or officiating capacity, provided that service in the tenure appointment[s], does not qualify for the grant of a special additional pension.

[2] For the purpose of emoluments for [ordinary] gratuity and/or death-cum-retirement gratuity. The difference between the average emoluments in respect of items [a] to [d][1] above calculated upon the last one year of service and the last substantive emoluments as per items [a] to [c] above.

[e][1] For the purpose of calculation of average emoluments:
The actual amount of the running allowance drawn during the month limited to a maximum of 75% of other emoluments reckoned in terms of [a] to [c] and [d][1] above.

[2] For the purpose of emoluments of [ordinary] gratuity/death-cum-retirement gratuity:- The monthly average of running allowance drawn during the 365 days of running duty immediately preceding the date of quitting service limited to 75% of the monthly average of other emoluments reckoned in terms of [a] to [c] and [d][2] above drawn during the same period.

Note[1]: If immediately before his retirement or death, an officer has been absent from duty on leave with allowance CE his emoluments for the purpose of calculating ordinary gratuity and or death-cum-retirement gratuity should be taken at what they would have been had he not been absent from duty.

Provided that the amount of gratuity is not increased on account of increase in pay not actually drawn and that benefit of higher officiating or temporary pay is given only if it is certified that he would have continued to hold the higher officiating or temporary appointment but for his proceeding on leave.

Note [2]: In case where a temporary officer who quits service after completing three years' service is appointed substantively to a permanent post any time during the last three years of his service the emoluments drawn by him after completion of three years' service during the period he was not holding a permanent post shall be treated as if drawn in a permanent post held in substantive capacity.

2544-B [C.S.R. 486-B].[1]: If an officer holding a permanent post in substantive capacity:-

- [a] officiates in a higher permanent post [other than a tenure post] or holds a higher temporary post [other than a tenure post] borne on a cadre which includes permanent post on the same time scale as the temporary post, continuously for not less than three years, and retires or dies while so officiating or holding the higher post; or
- [b] is confirmed in such higher permanent post at any time during the last three years of his service after having officiated in that post continuously for three years or more.

his emoluments for pension in respect of the higher post for any period beyond three years continuous service in that post shall be determined under Rule 2544-A [C.S.R. 486-A] as if he held in substantive capacity a permanent post on a time scale identical with that of the higher post.

[2] For computing the length of continuous service in respect of the higher post under clause [1], all kinds of leave all periods during which an Officer officiated in a permanent post or held a temporary post on identical or higher time scale and the time spent on deputation and foreign service shall be included, provided that it is certified that but for his proceeding on leave or serving in other post or going on deputation or foreign service as the case may be, the Officer concerned would have officiated in or held the higher post.

[This will take effect from 1st september 1962].

2544-C [C.S.R. 486-C] - In respect of Railway servants quitting service on or after the 15th June, 1968, "emoluments" shall mean the "pay" as defined in Rule 2003[21], which the Railway servant was receiving immediately before quitting service. Provided that the benefit of higher officiating pay for [ordinary] gratuity/Death-cum-retirement gratuity will be given only if such pay was/would have been drawn continuously for a period of not less than 22 days. "Average emoluments" shall mean the average of the emoluments as defined above calculated upon the last three years of service.

In the case of running staff emoluments for [ordinary]/Gratuity Death-cum-retirement gratuity will also include the monthly average of running allowance drawn during the 365 days of running duty immediately preceding the date of quitting service limited to 75% of the emoluments as defined above. For the purpose of calculation of average emoluments the actual amount of the running allowance drawn during the month limited to a maximum of 75% of other emoluments as defined above shall also be taken into account.

Note [1]: If a Railway servant, immediately before his retirement or death, etc., has been absent from duty or on leave with allowances [including leave preparatory to retirement] or on foreign service or having been suspended but reinstated without forfeiture of qualifying service, his emoluments should be taken at what they would have been had he not been on such leave or foreign service or suspension.

Provided that the emoluments shall not be increased on account of increase in pay, not actually drawn and that benefit of higher officiating or temporary pay is given only if it is certified that he would have continued to hold the higher officiating or temporary appointment but for his proceeding on leave.

[2] Pay drawn in tenure appointments will count for persons governed by the Railway Pension Rules, 1950.

It is clear from Rule 2544[g] that one of the components that constitutes average emoluments is the actual amount of running allowance drawn by the Railways servant during the month, limited to a maximum of 75% of the other emoluments reckoned in terms of sub-clauses of [a] to [f] of the said rules. The expression 'emoluments' used in the rules includes pay and some other allowances. When the revision of pay scale rules were promulgated and brought into force with effect from 1.1.1973 in the light of the recommendations of the Third Pay Commission, no steps were simultaneously taken to amend the statutory rules regulating grant of pension. Persons retiring after 1.1.1973 who had received the benefit of increase in pay in accordance with the revision of pay scale rules were entitled to claim computation of their pension taking into account the revised pay and the actual amount of running allowance drawn during the ^{previous} month limited to a maximum of 75% of the emoluments which included the enhanced revised pay. On 21.1.1974 the Railway Board by their letter No. PC III/73/RA directed as follows:

"The question of revision of rules for the regulation of various allowance consequent upon the introduction of Revised Pay Scales under Railway Services [Revised Pay] Rules, 1973 is under consideration of the Board. Pending final decision, thereon, the Board have decided as under:-

[i] Treatment of Running Allowance for various purposes in case of Running Staff:

The existing quantum of Running allowance based on the prevailing percentages laid down for various purposes with reference to the pay of the Running Staff in Authorised Scales of Pay may be allowed to continue.

[ii] Payment of Incentive Bonus:

The payment of Incentive Bonus to various categories of Railway employees at present eligible for the same, may be allowed to be paid at the existing hourly rates laid down for each category based on their Authorised Pay Scales.

2. The payments as above will be provisional subject to adjustment on the basis of final orders."

It is clear from this order that pending decision to revise the rules regulating grant of pension, the existing quantum of running allowance based on the prevailing percentage laid down for various purposes with reference to the pay of the running staff in various scales of pay was allowed to continue. Thus the limit of 75% prescribed by Rule 2544[g][i] was directed to be continued. The expression 'authorised scales of pay' in the context of the revised pay scale rules which came into force on 1.1.1973 has to be understood as pay authorised by the statutory rules that were in force on the date of the order, 21.1.1974. The order dated 21.1.1974 did not, therefore, in any manner affect the statutory prescription regulating computation of emoluments and average emoluments contained in Rule 2544 for the purpose of grant of retirement benefits. Any decision to modify the same would have effect only when the relevant statutory rules are amended in accordance with law. But what the Railway Board did was to attempt to modify the statutory rules by an executive order made on 22.3.1976 bearing No.PC II/75/RA/I paragraphs 1 to 5 of which read as follows:

"The question of revision of rules regarding treatment of Running Allowance as pay for certain purposes consequent upon the introduction of revised pay scales under Railway Services [Revised Pay] Rules, 1973 has been under consideration of this Ministry. It has now been decided that the existing rules in this respect may be modified as follows in the case of Running staff drawing pay in revised pay scales:

- i. Pay for the purposes of passes and PTOs shall be pay plus 40% of pay.
 - ii. Pay for the purpose of Leave salary, Medical attendance and treatment, Educational Assistance and retirement benefits shall be pay plus actual amount of running allowance drawn subject to a maximum of 45% of pay.
 - iii. Pay for the purpose of fixation of pay in stationary posts, Compensatory [City] Allowance, House Rent Allowance and rent for Railway quarters shall be pay plus 30% of pay.
2. These orders take effect from 1.4.1976.
 3. The payments already allowed on provisional basis in terms of para 2 of Railway Ministry's letter No. PC III/73/RA dated 21.1.1974 for the period from 1.1.1973 to 31.3.1976 shall be treated as final.
 4. The above has the sanction of the President.
 5. Hindi version of this letter will follow"

The limit of 75% of the actual amount of running allowance drawn in the preceding month for the purpose of computation of emoluments for quantifying pension was reduced from 75% to 45%. The statutory rules prescribing the maximum limit of 75% were, however not amended.

4. But as the authorities threatened to give effect to the Railway Board's order dated 22.3.1976 in preference to the statutory rules Shri Dev Dutt Sharma and other aggrieved persons challenged the Railway Board's order dated 22.3.1976 in the High Court of Delhi in C.W.P. No. 915/78. Consequent upon the establishment of the Central Administrative Tribunal with effect from 1.11.1985 the said case stood transferred to the Principal Bench of the Tribunal where it was renumbered as T No.410/85. The said application was allowed by the Principal Bench by its order dated 6.8.1986 and the impugned order of the Railway Board dated 22.3.76 was quashed. The respondents were directed to continue to make payment beyond 31.3.1976 all retirement benefits in accordance with the Railway Board's letter dated 21.1.1974 till such time as the relevant rules in this regard are amended in accordance with law. The Railway Board's letter dated 21.1.1974, as already stated, did not affect the statutory rights regulating pension. On a proper consideration of the order we have noticed that it in terms states that the limit prescribed by the rules shall continue until modified in accordance with law.

5. We should advert, at this stage, to another order made by the Railway Board by which the statutory limit which was reduced to 45% by the Railway Board's order dated 22.3.1976 was enhanced to 55% with effect from 1.4.1979. This order also suffered from the same infirmity from which the earlier order dated 22.3.1976 suffered it being in conflict with the statutory rules. It could not, therefore, have the legal effect of reducing the statutory limit of 75% fixed with relation to the running allowance by Rule 2544[g].

6. Shri M.C. Srinivasan and 23 others filed an application on 4.5.1988 before the Ernakulam Bench of the Tribunal in O.A. No.R-269/88 for a direction to grant them pension by adding running allowance upto a maximum of 75% of their pay for computation of their pension in accordance with the judgment of the Principal Bench in T No.410/85. During the pendency of the said application the statutory rule 2544 was amended by the President in exercise of the power conferred by Article 309 of the Constitution. By the said amendment said rule g[i] and g[iii] of Rule 2544 were amended firstly with effect from 1.1.1973 reducing the limit of running allowance for the purpose of calculating the average emoluments from 75% to 45%. On the same day, a further amendment was made with effect from 1.4.1979 increasing the maximum from 45% to 55%. Whereas the first amendment was given retrospective effect from 1.1.1973 the second amendment was given retrospective effect from 1.4.1979. For the sake of convenience we shall extract the amendments as follows:

EXPLANATION:

The Rule 2544 of Indian Railway Establishment Code, Volume II [5th reprint] has been modified through administrative instructions issued with President's approval effective from 1.4.1979. These instructions were necessitated by the Government's decision on the recommendations of 'Running Allowance Committee [1980]'. The purpose of this amendment is to give statutory force to the administrative instructions with effect from the same date on which the instructions were issued. It is certified that retrospective effect given to these rules will not adversely affect any employee, to whom these rules apply.

The amendment to the statutory rules having been effected during the pendency of the OA the applicants amended their application on 20.9.1989 challenging the two amendments in so far as they were given retrospective effect from 1.1.1973 and 1.4.1979 respectively. Their principal contention was that they, as pensioners, have acquired vested rights to receive pension in accordance with the rules in force on the dates on which they retired and that those rights of theirs cannot be taken away by the subsequent amendments made to rules on 5.12.1988 by giving retrospective effect to the same. This according to them is unjust, manifestly unreasonable and arbitrary and thus violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. The Ernakulam Bench consisting of Vice Chairman S.P. Mukerji and Judicial Member A.V. Haridasan by their order dated 20.4.1990 allowed the said application, quashed the notification dated 15.12.1988 to the extent the amendment to the rules were given retrospective effect and issued a consequential direction to the respondents to grant or refix pension and other retirement benefits to the applicants as if the amendment to Rule 2544 had not been effected till 5.12.1988. The clear effect of the decision is to declare/only that portion of the amendment which gave retrospective effect, preserving the prospective effect to the amendment with effect from 5.12.1988. Therefore, those who retired before 5.12.1988 were entitled to count the running allowance subject to a maximum of 75% of their pay and allowances for the purpose of computing their pension.

7. The aforesaid decision of the Ernakulam Bench in O.A. No.K-269/88 was challenged by the Union of India and others in Review Application No.72/90. That Review Application was rejected by a speaking order made on 25.7.1990.

8. Shri C.L. Mallick and others in O.A. No.1572/88 and connected applications challenged the Railway Board's order dated 22.3.1976 and the amendments to Rule 2544 before the Principal Bench of the CAT at New Delhi. They also prayed for a direction to compute retiral and other benefits in terms of the order of the Railway Board dated 21.1.1974. That application was opposed by the respondents therein viz., Union of India represented through the Chairman, Railway Board and the General Manager, Northern Railway. It is surprising that these respondents did not bring to the notice of the Principal Bench that the validity of the amendment to Rule 2544 was challenged before the Ernakulam Bench and that a decision has been rendered on 20.4.1990 striking down the amendment to the extent they gave retrospective effect. On the date on which the applicants presented their applications before the Principal Bench, the Ernakulam Bench had not yet rendered its decision. But the Ernakulam Bench had rendered its decision long before the Principal Bench decided the cases on 23.10.1991. The applicants were obviously unaware of the decision. That may be the reason for their not bringing the decision of the Ernakulam Bench to the notice of the Principal Bench. But the conduct of the respondents is inexcusable as the Union of India was a party to the proceedings before the Ernakulam Bench. Thus the Principal Bench did not have the benefit of the decision of the Ernakulam Bench when the O.A. No.1572/88 and other connected cases were heard and disposed of on 23.10.1991. All these applications were dismissed repelling the challenge to the amendment to the rules. The Principal Bench took the view that the vested rights of the pensioners were not affected by the amendment of the rules on the ground that the total amount of pension and retirement benefits they would have received before the amendment were not reduced by the amended rules. Following this decision of the Principal Bench applications No.351 to 423/88 filed by similarly situated persons before the Ahmedabad Bench were dismissed on 28.2.1992. It is surprising that the Union of India which was one of the respondents before the Ahmedabad Bench did not bring to the notice of the said Bench the decision of the Ernakulam Bench in O.A. K-269/88 to which it was a party.

9. It is for the first time after all these cases were referred to the Full Bench, transferred and clubbed together that the Union of India and other contesting respondents in these cases brought to the notice of this Full Bench the fact that Union of India has challenged the decision of the Ernakulam Bench in SLP No.10373/90 filed on 24.7.1990. The counsel for the respondents also informed us that the Special Leave Petition and the application for stay are pending and that the Supreme Court has not granted any interim order staying the operation of the order of the Ernakulam Bench.

10. It was contended by the learned counsel appearing for the Union of India and other contesting respondents in this batch of cases that we should defer consideration of all these cases and await the authoritative pronouncement of the Supreme Court where they had challenged the decision of the Ernakulam Bench. In this connection reliance was placed on the decision of the Supreme Court reported in AIR 1986 SC 1323 D.K. TRIVEDI AND SONS V. AMBALAL MANIBAI PATEL AND OTHERS. That was a case in which the Gujarat High Court had dismissed the writ petitions challenging the validity of certain statutory provisions and directed the petitioners to approach the Supreme Court as similar matters were pending there. It is in these circumstances that the Supreme Court observed that the course adopted by the High Court was not correct and that if the High Court thought that the point raised by the appellants was the same as was pending in the Supreme Court it ought to have stayed the hearing of the writ petitions. ~~the~~ the Supreme Court disposed of the other matters.

These observations, it is obvious, were made having regard to the context and the circumstances of the case. What binds the Tribunal under Article 141 of the Constitution of India is the principle of law laid down by the Supreme Court. It is not possible to understand the decision of the Supreme Court as laying down the principle that if an appeal is pending before the Supreme Court in which the validity of a particular statutory provision is challenged, that the High Courts where the same provisions are challenged in other cases, should defer consideration until the Supreme Court tenders the decision. The question whether the hearing of the case before the High Court should be stayed awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. In the present batch of cases we are concerned with the valuable rights of the applicants who have retired between 1976 and 1988. These cases relate to retirement benefits and any delay in disposal of these cases would cause great hardship and prejudice to the old and retired pensioners. The SLP is pending before the Supreme Court from 24.7.1990 and the operation of the order of the Ernakulam Bench has not been stayed. Even then the applicants herein have not been given the benefit of the decision of the Ernakulam Bench in regard to computation of their retirement benefits. Having regard to all these circumstances we do not consider it just and proper to stay the hearing of these cases and to await the decision of the Supreme Court.

11. On behalf of the applicants it is contended that we should dispose of these cases in the light of the decision of ^{the} Ernakulam Bench which has struck down the amendment to Rule 2544 to the extent retrospective effect has been given affecting the rights of the applicants. On behalf of the respondents, however, it is maintained that the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench having taken a contrary view and upheld the validity of the amendments we should dismiss these applications following the said decisions. They further contend that on merits the decision of Ernakulam Bench is wrong and that the view taken by the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench is sound.

12. At the outset we must observe that the respondents are taking advantage of their own lapse in not placing the decision of the Ernakulam Bench when the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench decided the two sets of cases where the same statutory provisions were challenged. It is well settled that a Division Bench is bound by judicial discipline to follow the earlier decision of another Bench vide: AIR 1989 SC 1933 UNION OF INDIA AND ANOTHER v. RAGHUBIR SINGH AND OTHERS wherein it is observed:

"We are of the opinion that a pronouncement of law by a Division Bench of this Court is binding on a Division Bench of the same or a smaller number of Judges and in order that such decision be binding, it is not necessary that it should be a decision rendered by the Full Court or a Constitution Bench of the Court."

If only the respondents had fairly placed the decision of the Ernakulam Bench before the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench, those Benches would not have examined the validity of the impugned statutory provisions, the same having already been struck down by the Ernakulam Bench which had the competence to do so. The respondents are now trying to take advantage of the failure on their part of performing their duty of placing the decision of the Ernakulam Bench when similar cases came up for consideration before the Principal Bench and Ahmedabad Bench. If the respondents had acted fairly and diligently, conflict of decisions would have been avoided.

13. We shall now examine the contention of the respondents that the orders of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench have the effect of declaring that the impugned amendment to the Rules to the extent that they give retrospective effect are valid.

At the outset we would like to say that the applications filed by the aggrieved parties having been dismissed by the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench, those orders cannot be understood as declaring that the impugned provisions of the rules are valid. The decision of the Ernakulam Bench which struck down the amendment to the rules in so far as they gave retrospective effect is not an order in personem. The Ernakulam Bench has held that under the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution the President has power to promulgate rules with retrospective effect. It, however, struck down the amendment of the rules to the extent they gave retrospective effect on the ground that it is arbitrary and violative of Article 14 of the Constitution to deprive the pensioners of the rights which vested in them as on the dates on which they retired, by amending the rules subsequently with retrospective effect. As the impugned provisions were struck down as violative of Article 14 of the Constitution the legal effect is that the impugned amendments were void ab initio vide DEEP CHAND v. STATE OF UTTAR PRADESH reported in AIR 1959 SC 648. Once a competent court declares a statutory provision as void as offending the fundamental rights conferred by Article 14 of the Constitution that decision binds every one and not merely the parties to the proceedings. The effect of the decision of the Ernakulam Bench is that the amendments giving retrospective effect was not in existence from its inception. In Black's Law Dictionary, 5th Edition, it is stated that Judgment in Rem is:-

"An adjudication pronounced upon the status of some particular thing or subject matter, by a tribunal having competent authority."

In Halsbury's Law of England, 4th Edition, Vol.16 the meaning of "Judgment in Rem" is given at para 1522 as below:-

"1522. Meaning of "Judgment in rem". A judgment in rem may be defined as the judgment of a Court of competent jurisdiction determining the status of a person or thing, or the disposition of a thing, as distinct from the particular interest in it of a party to the litigation. Apart from the application of the term to persons, it must affect the "res" in the way of condemnation, forfeiture, declaration of status or title, or order for sale or transfer".

(Emphasise supplied)

As the decision of the Ernakulam Bench declares the status of the impugned statutory provision, it is a Judgment in rem.

14. As on the date on which the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench disposed of the applications before them the amendment giving retrospective effect to the rule having already been declared void by the Ernakulam Bench, the tribunal cannot be asked to strike down the statutory provision which has already been struck down or declared as void by a court of competent jurisdiction. The orders of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench dismissing the applications cannot in the circumstances have the effect of putting life into the rules which have already been declared void by the Ernakulam Bench. When a statutory provision is declared as void or struck down, the same can be revived by getting the said decision reversed by way of review or on appeal to the higher court. The only other way to resurrect such a provision is by resorting to appropriate amendment of the Constitution or modifying the statutory provision as to render it intra vires. The Supreme Court has held in AIR 1989 SC 1933 UNION OF INDIA v. RAGHUBIR SINGH AND OTHERS -

"Where a statute is declared invalid in India it cannot be reinstated unless constitutional sanction is obtained therefor by a constitutional amendment or an appropriately modified version of the statute is enacted which accords with constitutional prescription".

It cannot and is not disputed that the Ernakulam Bench of the Tribunal was competent to declare the impugned statutory provision void as offending Article 14 of the Constitution. The statutory provisions declared void have not been shown to have been resurrected either by an appropriate amendment to the Constitution or by suitable modification of the statutory provision to bring it within the constitutional prescription. The application for review challenging the decision of the Ernakulam Bench has been dismissed. Though an appeal has been filed against the decision of the Ernakulam Bench to the Supreme Court no decision has as yet been rendered by it reversing the decision of the Ernakulam Bench. It is admitted that the Supreme Court has not so far stayed the operation of the said decision. Hence, we have no hesitation in holding that the order of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench do not have the legal effect of resurrecting the impugned statutory provisions which have been already declared void by the earlier decision of the Ernakulam Bench. In the light of our above findings it follows that there is only one decision which holds the field viz., that of Ernakulam Bench which has declared the impugned provisions as void. As the decisions of the Principal Bench and Ahmedabad Bench do not have the effect of declaring the impugned provisions as valid, it follows that there are no conflicting decisions requiring resolution of the conflict.

15. Assuming that there are two inconsistent decisions, we shall examine as to which decision can be regarded as a precedent binding in subsequent cases. It is obvious that the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench have rendered their decisions without noticing the earlier decision of the Ernakulam Bench. In such a situation it is well settled that the later decision rendered in ignorance of the earlier decision has to be regarded as per incuriam and not binding on the court in a subsequent case. This principle has been succinctly stated in Salmond on Jurisprudence, 12th Edition, page 151 at para (5) as follows:-

"(5) Inconsistency between earlier decisions of the same rank. A court is not bound by its own previous decisions that are in conflict with one another. This rule has been laid down in the Court of Appeal [Young's case (1944) K.B. at 726, 729], Court of Criminal Appeal [R. v. Power (1919) 1 K.B.572 (CCA)] and Divisional Court [R. v. De Gray (1900) 1 Q.B.521]], and it obviously applies also to the House of Lords. There may at first sight seem to be a difficulty here; how can a situation of conflict occur, if the court is bound by its own decisions? At least two answers may be given. First, the conflicting decisions may come from a time before the binding force of precedent was recognised. Secondly, and more commonly, the conflict may have arisen through inadvertence, because the earlier case was not cited in the later. Owing to the vast number of precedents, and the heterogeneous ways in which they are reported - or are not reported - it is only too easy for counsel to miss a relevant authority. Whenever a relevant prior decision is not cited before the court, or mentioned in the judgments, it must be assumed that the court acts in ignorance or forgetfulness of it. If the new decision is in conflict with the old, it is given per incuriam and is not binding on a later court." (emphasise supplied)

In Raghubir Singh's case it has been laid down that a decision of a Bench of two judges is binding on the Division bench consisting of the same number of judges and that, therefore, the principle laid down by a Bench of two judges does not get reversed or superseded by a subsequent decision of a Bench of the same number of judges. Applying this principle it has to be held that what holds the field as a binding precedent is the decision of the Ernakulam Bench and that the subsequent decision of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench have to be regarded as per incuriam and not binding in subsequent cases. This being the legal position the decisions of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench have to be ignored and the Ernakulam Bench decision alone should be regarded as holding the field as a precedent in regard to the validity of the impugned rule in so far as it gives retrospective effect.

As the Full Bench is not bound by either of the decisions, we shall now examine as to which of the decisions lays down the law correctly. The Ernakulam Bench has rightly proceeded on the basis that the President has under the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution power to promulgate rules with retrospective effect. This, however, is subject to the condition that the rules do not offend any of the fundamental rights conferred by Part III of the Constitution. What the Ernakulam Bench has done is to examine as to whether retrospective effect given to the amendment violates Article 14 of the Constitution. It has held that it does, on the ground that the vested rights of the applicants in the matter of receiving pension and other retiral benefits have been affected by the retrospective operation of the amended rule. It is well settled that pension is a valuable right which a Government servant earns. It is neither charity nor bounty. Government servant acquires right to pension and other retirement benefits on the date he retires from service. Deprivation of such a valuable vested right after retirement, in our opinion, is manifestly unreasonable, arbitrary and therefore violative of Article 14 of the Constitution. That is precisely what the Ernakulam Bench has said in its decision. The Principal Bench and Ahmedabad Bench have not taken the view that such vested rights can be taken away by a subsequent amendment to the rules by giving retrospective effect to the same. What they have said is that the vested rights of the applicants before them have not in any manner been curtailed by the impugned amendments to the rules. By the revision of Pay Scale Rules the pay scales of the members of the running staff were enhanced with effect from 1-1-1973. Under Rule 2544 the members of the Running staff were entitled to computation of their pay and retirement benefits taking into account the running allowances which they were receiving subject to a maximum of 75% of their pay and other allowances. Rule 2544 was amended by notifications dated 5-12-1988 prescribing the maximum at

45% from 1-1-1973 to 1-4-1979 and 55% from 1-4-1979 onwards. Those who retired from 1-1-1973 to 4-12-1988 were, in accordance with Rule 2544 as it then stood, entitled to take into account running allowance in the matter of computation of pension and retirement benefits upto the maximum of 75% of their pay and other allowances. As their pay was revised with effect from 1-1-1973 the limit of 75% had to be worked out with reference to the enhanced pay and other allowances that they became entitled to receive in accordance with revision of Pay Scales Rules which came into effect from 1-1-1973. When the maximum is reduced from 75% to 45% upto 1-4-1979 or at the rate of 55% from 1-4-1979 it requires no argument to convince that the vested rights of all those who retired between 1-1-1973 and 4-12-1988 in the matter of receiving pension and retirement benefits were adversely affected. The Principal Bench whose decision has been followed by the Ahmedabad Bench has, however, held that the amendment with retrospective effect has not adversely affected the quantum of pension etc. What the Principal Bench has done is to compare the pension one would get taking into account the pre revised scale of pay immediately before 1.1.1973 and the running allowance limited to a maximum of 75% of pay and allowances, with the pension which he would get after 1-1-1973 taking into account the higher revised scale of pay and the running allowance subject to a maximum of 45% or 55% as the case may. We are concerned with persons who retired between 1-1-1973 and 4-12-1988 thereby earning a right to computation of pension in accordance with the statutory rules then in force. As by the time they retired, revision of pay had come into force, it is the revised pay and the running allowance subject to a maximum of 75% of the revised pay and allowances that was required to be taken into account. This right which accrued in their favour on their retirement between 1-1-1973 and 4-12-1988 was sought to be affected by amending the rules on 5-12-1988 with retrospective effect reducing the maximum limit of running allowance that qualifies for pension. When the maximum limit of running allowance is reduced from 75% to 45% or to 55% it automatically reduces the pension and retirement benefits that stood vested on the date of retirement. It is impossible, therefore, to agree with the view taken by the Principal Bench followed by the Ahmedabad Bench that the vested right of the pensioners who retired between 1-1-1973 and 4-12-1988 in regard to pension and other retirement benefits have not been adversely affected by giving retrospective effect to the amended rules. We have, therefore, no hesitation in holding that the decisions of the Principal Bench and the Ahmedabad Bench with great respect are wrong and that the decision of the Ernakulam Bench is right. The Ernakulam Bench has, in our opinion, rightly declared the amended provisions to the extent they have been given retrospective effect as void as offending Article 14 of the Constitution.

17. As the decision of the Ernakulam Bench is in appeal before the Supreme Court we would like, in the interest of justice and to avoid multiplicity of proceedings, to direct that the present applicants shall be bound by the directions of the Supreme Court and that the payments made in pursuance of our directions in all these cases shall be liable to be suitably adjusted.

18. For the reasons stated above, all these applications are allowed with the following directions:

- (1) The respondents shall recompute the pension and other retiral benefits of the applicants or their L.Rs in accordance with Rule 2544 as was in force before it was amended by Notification dated 5-12-1988.

- (2) The arrears due to the applicants/L.Rs on the basis of the recomputation as aforesaid shall be calculated and paid.
- (3) These directions shall be carried out within a period of three months from the date of receipt of the copy of this order.
- (4) If the amounts due to the applicants/L.Rs are not paid within the prescribed time, the amounts due shall be paid with interest at 12% per annum from the date of this order till the date of payment.
- (5) The applicants shall be entitled to costs at the rate of Rs.500/- in respect of each application.
- (6) The payment of pension and retirement benefits as per the aforesaid directions shall stand regulated/adjusted in accordance with the orders/directions as may be issued by the Supreme Court in SLP No.10373/90 against the decision of the Madras Bench of the Tribunal in Application No.K-269/88.
