Shri Justice P.K. Shyamsundar, Vice Chairman

The applicant has sought for an appointment in the Telecommunication Department on compassionate grounds alleging that her mother while in service having died, she has asked for being placed in service on compassionate grounds but that claim has since been rejected.

2. It transpires from the pleadings of both sides that the applicant was well endowed by her mother who had left a house in Mangalore to be shared by the applicant and her brother. What more, under a will of the mother, her erstwhile husband had been authorised to collect the family pension so that he could take care of the children. It also transpires certain amounts like bonus, etc. were authorised by the children viz., the applicant and her brother to be collected by their father who happens to be admittedly a practicing Advocate at Mangalore.

3. While, it is true, the father and the mother of the applicant had a divorce but, the fact remains the mother had commended her children to the care and custody of her erstwhile husband and the children had themselves had trust in their father, sufficient to allow him to receive monetary benefits from the department on their behalf. The fact also remains the mother had authorised her former husband to collect the family pension with the intention of he being in the maintenance of the children. There is no allegation that the father had betrayed the trust in any manner and had been neglecting the children.

4. We are told the applicant is staying in the house built by the mother and is presently pursuing academic studies directed towards acquiring a Bachelors degree in Commerce. It also transpires from the pleadings, the brother of the applicant is studying for medicine. All these indicate that the father ~~was~~ was steadfastly discharging the obligation towards his children and it cannot be said that all this could be met with. by the family pension the father was receiving from the department. Certainly, much more from the father must have come.

Their father must be contributing his mite for the benefit of the children.

5. From the foregoing, it follows that this is not a case in which the applicant is in such dire economic situation and is therefore required to be assisted by the department by appointing her to some position in the department.

6. Under the circumstances, this application fails and is dismissed.
