ORAL JUDGEMENT

Dated: 27.4.1994

(PER: M.S.Deshpande, Vice Chairman)

The applicant's request for giving compassionate appointment consequent upon medically boarded<sup>ing</sup> out his father and his death on 7.6.1991 came to be rejected on 31.5.1993 without assigning any reasons. The applicant's mother had made an application for compassionate appointment to her second son who attained majority on 8.10.1992. This application was made on 8.10.1992 itself and came to be rejected without assigning any reasons on 31.5.1993.

2. Since no reasons have been given while disposing of the application filed by the applicant's mother for compassionate appointment to the applicant and the applicant had just attained majority on the date of his application was made, if the applicant makes a second application, the department shall entertain it and decide in accordance with rules on its own merits and the order passed today shall not come in the way of the applicant. The applicant <sup>is allowed to</sup> ~~should~~ make fresh application.
