3. The respondents oppose the O.A. and have filed a counter. Prior to the revision of the formula, licence fee was being recovered at 10% of the emoluments or standard licence fee based on the cost of construction, plinth area etc., whichever was less. Later, the IV Pay Commission recommended that rent for Govt. accommodation should be recovered at a flat rate with reference to the type of accommodation allotted to the employees. This recommendation was accepted and consequently FR 45(A) IV(c) was duly amended. When the IV Pay Commission recommendation was accepted it was also provided that the rate would be revised every 3 years. Accordingly, the Govt. of India vide their Office Memorandum dt. 28.6.91 revised the flat rate of licence fee for residential accommodation w.e.f. 1.7.90. The respondents also rebut the claim that the retrospective revision was done without notice. They have referred to the circular No.SCF:PGA:EM&W:66 dt. 10.8.90 wherein it was indicated that the licence fee is liable for revision every 3 years.

4. We have examined the case and heard the rival sides. The main issue raised by the learned counsel for the applicant was that the respondents cannot revise the licence fee upward with retrospective effect. He has also alleged that no notice was given to the applicants about such revision. We find from the circular dt. 10.8.90 referred to by the respondents that there was a clear indication that the licence fee is subject to revision every 3 years. In accordance with that provision they had indicated that the revision of rates of licence fee to be effective from 1.7.90 was under consideration. It was also clearly mentioned that the licence fee being collected from 1.7.90 was only provisional and subject to revision as per Govt. orders whenever issued. Later, vide orders dt. 2.6.91 the rates were revised w.e.f. 1.7.90 as indicated by them much in advance. The applicants cannot, therefore, say that rates have been revised with retrospective effect without notice to them. The Govt. orders provide for triennial revision of the licence fee and it is in pursuance of that that they had revised the rates. We find no illegality whatsoever in the orders issued by the respondents. The application is liable to be dismissed and is accordingly dismissed with no order as to costs.
