The O.A., was admitted on 3-10-1997 and the respondents were directed to file their reply in six Weeks' time and to be ensured that no extension of time is sought. Inspite of more than six months' time ^{had} elapsed, the respondents failed to file their reply. In view of the circumstances, we are left with no other alternative except to grant the prayer in the M.A., as prayed for.

The counsel for the applicant submits that out of 30 vacancies notified for the posts of Agricultural Scientists for which the applicant appeared for the selection, only 15 vacancies have been filled up and another notification has also been issued for recruitment to the said posts. He apprehends that in case all posts are filled up even though the applicant succeeds in this O.A., he may not get the posting due to the paucity of the posts. He prays to keep one post vacant till the disposal of the O.A.

In the circumstances the following direction is given:

REPLY STATEMENT FILED ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

I, K.K. BAJPAI S/o Late Dr. O.S. Bajpai, Aged about 47 years, Occupation : Secretary, ASRB, New Delhi, resident of New Delhi, do hereby solemnly affirm and state as follows:

I am the Respondent No: 2 herein and hence, I am well acquainted with the facts of the case. I am filing this reply statement on behalf of all the Respondents. The material averments in the O.A. are denied, save those that are expressly admitted therein. The applicant is put to strict proof of all such averments except those that are specifically admitted hereunder.

It is submitted that the applicant appeared for the Agricultural Research Service/NET/SRF Examination, 1996 held in the year, 1996. The written test in the Examination consists of three papers i.e. (i) General Knowledge (ii) Professional Paper - I and Professional Paper - II carrying the maximum marks of 200 each. Those who get 45% marks in Professional paper - I and Professional paper - II together are eligible to be called for Viva-Voce carrying marks of 100. As per the criteria fixed by Board for becoming eligible for appointment in order of merit, one had to secure 45% marks out of total 700 marks. The marks obtained by the candidate are as under:

1.	General Knowledge	84	out of	200
2.	Professional. Paper - I	132	out of	200
3.	Professional paper - II	63	out of	200
4.	Viva - Voce	20	out of	100
	Grant Total	299		700

Since the applicant did not come in merit as per this criteria, he was not recommended in final result and hence there is no question of his selection. This criteria was uniformly followed in all cases except for SC/ST candidates in whose cases it was relaxable to total 35% marks.

It is submitted that medical examination and verification of antecedents by police are conducted in the intervening period in respect of all the candidates called for Viva-Voce to avoid delay in issue of offer of appointment to selected candidates. This practice is followed in the Civil Service Examination by UPSC also irrespective of whether the candidate is finally selected or not. This is also made clear in the letter directing the candidates to undergo medical examination.

It is submitted that the Viva-Voce took place on 6.6.97. The Viva-Voce is mandatory and the marks obtained therein form part of the overall aggregate for preparing merit list. Thus, the marks of all the three papers and Viva-Voce are taken into account for preparing final results.

However, the applicant has not come in the merit for final selection. Since he has not met the qualifying criteria, there is no question of inclusion of his name in the select list.

Regarding the averments of the applicant about bias, positive or negative influence, malice and perfunctory assessment of candidates in Viva-Voce, it is submitted that the same are not correct and hence denied. As the ARS examination is a competitive examination, the candidates are required to come in the merit as per the criteria fixed by the Agricultural Scientists Recruitment Board. However, as already stated in the preceding paras, the applicant has not come in the merit for final selection and therefore his name could not be included in the select list. There is no question of any bias or malafide as criteria was uniformly applied to all as explained earlier.

For the reasons stated above, it is submitted that the applicant has not made out any case either on facts or in law and there is no merit in the O.A. It is, therefore, prayed vide this Honourable Tribunal be pleased to dismiss the same with costs and pass such further order or orders as this Honourable Tribunal may deem fit and proper in the circumstances of the case.

(by Hon'ble Sri R. Rangarajan, Member (A))

Heard Ms. Anasuya for Sri C.S.Subba Rao for the Applicant and Sri N.R.Devaraj for the respondents.

The applicant in this O.A., had applied for the post of Scientist of Agricultural Research under the Indian Council for Agricultural Research (ICAR) as per the Advertisement in the Employment News dated 31st August 1996 September, 1996. For the above post the Agricultural Research Services (ARS)

Examination was held by the Agricultural Recruitment Board during December, 1996.

The applicant was called for the Written Examination and he was also directed to sit for the Viva-Voce Examination. After the selection process was over the name of the applicant was not included in the empanelled list for the advertised post even though he underwent Medical Examination.

This O.A., is filed praying for a direction to the Agricultural Scientists Recruitment Board of the Indian Council for Agricultural Research, New Delhi to include the name of the applicant in the select list of the candidates in the rank order according to merit for appointment as Agricultural Scientist, Computer Division, against one of the 30 vacancies announced as he has been qualified in the written test, Viva-Voce and found fit in the Medical Examination.

An interim order was passed in this O.A., on 30-4-1998 whereby it was ordered that one post of Agricultural Scientist in the Computer Wing for which the applicant had applied shall be kept vacant.

A perusal of the Annexure II of the Employment Notice referred to above indicates that in the Discipline of the Computer Application in Agriculture the tentative No. of vacancies is 30 subject to change.

The applicant had made the following contentions for not selecting and appointing him against the post

advertised. They are --

- i) that the rule for empanelment has been clearly stipulated in para 11(i) of the Advertisement. This para stipulates that candidates who obtain such minimum qualifying marks in the written examination as may be fixed by the Board in their discretion shall be summoned by them for Viva-Voce for the Agricultural Research Service. The applicant contends that those who had passed the written test obtaining the minimum marks should be empanelled if they come within the number of 30 posts advertised, that there is no stipulation for fixing the minimum marks for viva-voce Examination for empanellment. The applicant further contends that the total aggregate marks obtained in the written as well as the Viva-Voce shall have to be taken into consideration for empanellment for the post advertised, as there is no fixation of minimum marks for viva-voce Examination. As the applicant had obtained the minimum marks in the viva-voce i.e., 45% in the professional Papers I and II put together, he should have been empanelled if he has come within the number of 30 vacancies advertised for appointment. Only 15 candidates were shown as selected and the vacancies have been filled to that extent only out of 30 advertised posts. Hence the non-inclusion of the name of the applicant in the selection is irregular.
- ii) that the same Agricultural Research Recruitment Board had further notified 30 vacancies for the next recruitment. Hence, the applicant submits that it cannot be said that there were no vacancies as per the previous Employment Advertisement for which examination was conducted in which the applicant had appeared.

A reply has been filed in this O.A. It is stated in the reply that those who had obtained the minimum 45% in the professional Papers I and II put together are eligible to be called for viva-voce. Viva-voce carries 100 marks. For becoming eligible for selection and appointment in the order of merit one has to secure minimum of 45% marks out of the total aggregate of 700 marks. The total aggregate of 700 marks is calculated fixing 600 marks (1) for General Knowledge (2) Professional Paper- I and Professional Paper-II and 100 marks for viva-voce. The applicant did not come in the merit list as per the eligibility criteria as he had not obtained 45% marks out of the total aggregate marks of 700. Hence, his name was not recommended for inclusion in the final list. The above rules has been followed in all cases except S.C., and S.T., candidates in whose case it has been relaxed to 35% marks instead of 45%

The first contention of the applicant is that the rules did not provide adding of marks of viva-voce for fixing the final criteria for purpose of empanelment. In other words fixing of minimum marks for viva-voce is bad in law. For this the applicant had relied upon the Judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in P.M.RAMACHANDRA IYER Vs. UNION OF INDIA & OTHERS (A.I.R., 1984 S.C. 541).

A study of the rule relied upon by the applicant clearly indicates that a candidate who had passed the written test obtaining 45% marks in Professional Papers I and II put together can only be called for viva-voce. The rule does not talk about the minimum viva-voce marks. Hence, when the applicant submits that there should be no fixation of minimum marks for viva-voce, his contention is in accordance with the rule position. The respondents also in the reply did not specifically state that no minimum number of marks is fixed for viva-voce examination to become eligible for selection. But there is fixation of minimum in the total aggregate marks to be obtained for empanelment to the post advertised. The rule does not prohibit fixation of minimum in the total aggregate marks. A reading of the rule clearly indicates that those who obtained the minimum aggregate marks i.e., 45% of the total marks shall be deemed to be qualified and shall be recommended for appointment to the ARS. Hence, if the respondents fix the minimum marks in the aggregate for employment, it cannot be said to be an incorrect appraisal of the rule by the respondents. The rule does not debar fixing the minimum aggregate marks including the marks obtained in the viva-voce. As the applicant had not obtained the minimum 45% of the total marks of 700 which include the marks obtained in the written and viva-voce, the applicant cannot therefore claim as having qualified in the selection. In that view, we are of the opinion that the respondents had observed the rule position strictly and rejected his case for empanelment.

The Supreme Court judgment referred to by the applicant has no application ^{to} in this case. In para 44 of the Hon'ble Supreme Court's Judgment in P.K.RAMACHANDRA IYER vs. UNION OF INDIA & OTHERS it was observed that Rule 13 does not envisage obtaining minimum marks at the Viva-Voce test even though it contemplates obtaining minimum marks at the written test so as to be eligible for being called for viva-voce test. It is evident from the reply ^{of the respondents} that there is no minimum fixed for viva-voce but one has to secure 45% out of 700 total aggregate marks for empanelment. The above observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court does not indicate that no minimum in the aggregate should be fixed. Hence relying on the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, this O.A., cannot be allowed.

The learned counsel for the applicant submits that in the next advertisement once again 30 posts were advertised. Hence, it cannot be said that in the previous examination the number of posts to be filled is less than 30. Annexure II to the Advertisement clearly states that the tentative number of vacancies to be filled is only 30. The word "Tentative" clearly indicates that the number of vacancies can be altered depending upon the necessity. It is also stated under

Annexure II of the Advertisement that the number of vacancies is 'tentative and subject to change' (emphasis supplied). This clearly goes to prove that if the respondents want to fill only 15 vacancies instead of 30, it cannot be said that such a decision is against the advertisement referred to above. If the respondents had advertised for 30 filling up vacancies in the next recruitment it does not mean that similar number of vacancies should be filled in the earlier advertisement also. Such a view in our opinion is uncalled for and unwarranted.

The learned counsel for the applicant relied upon a decision of the High Court of Andhra Pradesh in this connection. But that judgment has been challenged on the ground of jurisdiction. Hence, we do not want to observe or express any opinion on the basis of that decision candidates to become eligible for being called for viva-voce and the respondents had fixed 45% marks for calling the candidates to viva-voce and since the petitioner had obtained 45% marks in the written examination he was called for viva-voce. The learned counsel for the petitioner further contends that, in terms of Rule 11 of the Rules it was incumbent upon the respondents to prepare a merit list on the basis of aggregate marks obtained by the candidates in the written examination and viva-voce and appoint the persons on the basis of their merit in the merit list keeping in view the number of posts available. The learned counsel for the respondents does not dispute that the petitioner was called for interview and he ^{had} ~~was~~ qualified in the written examination, he however disputes the interpretation that is sought to be placed by the learned counsel for petitioner on Rule 11. He submits that, calling a person to an interview would not entitle such candidate to an appointment. The Board had taken a decision in a meeting held on 17-4-1997 by which it was decided that the candidate should get 45% marks in aggregate before he was declared entitled to appointment.

In view of what is stated above, we find no merits in the G.A. Hence, it is dismissed. No costs.

Petition under Article 226 of the of the constitution of India praying that in the circumstances stated in the affidavit filed herein the High court will be pleased to issue any writ or order or direction mainly in the nature of writ of certiorari or any other appropriate writ, by calling for the records pertaining to O.A.No. 1314/97 from the Respondent No.3 herein and quash the orders passed in O.A.No. 1314/97 dated 4.3.1999 as it is contrary to law, principles of natural justice and contrary to the decided cases of the Hon'ble Supreme court and further direct the respondents 1 and 2 to select the petitioner herein for the post of scientist in any of the Institution under ICAR or in Computer wing.

In the light of these arguments it will be necessary to refer to Rule 11 of the Rules which lays down;

"11. (i) Candidates who obtain such minimum qualifying marks in the written examination as may be fixed by the Board in their discretion shall be summoned by them for VIVA-VOCE for the Agricultural Research Service.

After the viva-voce the candidates will be arranged by the Board in the order of merit in each category (Professional subject wise) as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each candidate and such candidates as are found by the Board to be qualified shall be

HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE E. DHARMA RAO

✓ W.P.No. 8733 of 1999

JUDGMENT:

(per Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bilal Nazki)

Heard the learned counsel for the parties. The learned counsel for the respondent has also produced, in sealed cover, the proceedings of the Agricultural Scientists Recruitment Board (ASRB) meeting held on 17th April, 1997.

The petitioner was a candidate for the post of Scientist for which an advertisement was issued in Employment News dated 20-26 September, 1996. According to the petitioner he was eligible therefore he had applied for the said post. A written examination was conducted. He ~~was~~ qualified in the written examination and was also called for viva-voce. The petitioner contends that, although he obtained the marks necessary for obtaining the employment and the post was also available but he was not appointed. With these allegations he went to the Tribunal. The Tribunal dismissed the O.A, therefore the Writ petition.

The controversy is in a very short compass and relates to the interpretation being placed on Rule 11 of the Rules for the Agricultural Research Service (ARS) National Eligibility Test (NET) and Senior Research Fellowship (SRF) Examination (hereinafter referred as 'the Rules'). According to the petitioner, the respondents were free to fix a percentage of marks in the written examination for

If this was the condition that a candidate should obtain 45% marks in each of the papers and also in the viva-voce then what was the point in calling the petitioner to viva-voce because even if he had obtained marks which would make his overall merit to be 45% even then he would have not been entitled to appointment because he did not obtain even 45% in two of the papers. Therefore, we think that this is an after thought and Rules did not provide for such a methodology.

The learned counsel for the petitioner has also relied on a judgment reported in *P.K. Ramachandra Iyer v. Union of India*¹ a case pertaining to the same institution in which it has been held that no minimum marks can be prescribed for viva-voce. In para-44 the Supreme Court laid down;

"44. Mr. Ramachandran, learned counsel for the petitioner contended that Rule 13 does not envisage obtaining minimum marks at the viva voce test even though it contemplates obtaining minimum marks at the written test so as to be eligible for being called for viva voce test. It was further urged that Rule 14 specified the manner in which merit list is to be arranged. Rule 14 provides that after both written and viva voce tests are held, the candidates will be arranged by the Board in the order of merit in each category (Professional subject wise) as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each candidate and such candidates as are found by the Board to be qualified by the examination shall be recommended for appointment up to the number of unreserved vacancies decided to be filled on the result of the examination. On a combined reading of Rules 13 and 14, two things emerge. It is open to the Board to prescribe minimum marks which the candidates must obtain at the written test before becoming eligible for viva voce test. After the candidate obtains minimum marks or more at the written test and he comes eligible for being called for viva voce test, he has to appear at the viva voce test. Neither R.13 nor R.14 nor any other rule enables the ASRB to prescribe minimum qualifying recommended for appointment to ARS in accordance with the number of vacancies intimated by the Council under each discipline."

From bare perusal of this Rule it becomes clear that the respondents had no authority to fix a criteria of securing a minimum percentage of marks while aggregating the marks obtained by a candidate in written test and viva-voce. The respondents were empowered to fix a criteria for calling the candidates to the viva-voce and the marks obtained in viva-voce were immaterial for the purpose of determining the over all merit of a candidate. The marks obtained by a candidate in the viva-voce had to be added to the marks obtained in the written examination. The marks obtained in written examination and the percentage fixed by the respondents for such marks was only to weed out the lesser meritorious candidates and to make a list of the candidates who had to be called for second stage of the selection i.e., viva-voce. After the viva-voce the marks ^{had} ~~will have~~ to be summed up and the final merit list ~~had~~ to be compiled with irrespective of the fact that whether a candidate got lesser percentage or higher percentage of marks in the viva-voce. Secondly, we have seen the minutes of the meeting held on 17-4-97. These proceedings lay down that the candidate should obtain same percentage of marks as was fixed for written examination in all the papers individually and also in the viva-voce. The merit of the petitioner has been disclosed in the counter affidavit and admittedly he had obtained 45% marks in aggregate in the written examination but in two of the papers i.e. General Knowledge and Professional Paper-II he had not secured 45% marks.

In this view of the matter, we hold that the petitioner was eligible to be appointed and since the post is still available therefore we direct the respondents to appoint the petitioner against the post, but he shall not be entitled to any benefits retrospectively.

The Writ petition is accordingly allowed.

That Rule Nisi has been made absolute as above.

marks to be obtained by the candidate at the viva-voce test. On the contrary, the language of Rule 14 clearly negatives any such power in the ASRB when it provides that after the written test if the candidate has obtained minimum marks, he is eligible for being called for viva voce test and the final merit list would be drawn up according to the aggregate of marks obtained by the candidate in written test plus viva voce examination. The additional qualifications which ASRB prescribed to itself namely, that the candidate must have a further qualification of obtaining minimum marks in the viva voce test does not find place in Rr.13 and 14, it amounts virtually to a modification of the Rules. By necessary inference, there was no such power in the ASRB to add to the required qualifications. If such power is claimed, it has to be explicit and cannot be read by necessary implication for the obvious reasons that such deviation from the rules is likely to cause irreparable and irreversible harm. It however does not appear in the facts of the case before us that because of an allocation of 100 marks for viva voce test, the result has been unduly affected. We say so for want of adequate material on the record. In this background we are not inclined to hold that 100 marks for viva voce test was unduly high compared to 600 marks allocated for the written test. But the ASRB in prescribing minimum 40 marks for being qualified for viva voce test contravened Rule 14 inasmuch as there was no such power in the ASRB to prescribe this additional qualification, and this prescription of an impermissible additional qualification has a direct impact on the merit list because the merit list was to be prepared according to the aggregate marks obtained by the candidate at written test plus viva voce test. Once an additional qualification of obtaining minimum marks at the viva voce test is adhered to, a candidate who may figure high up in the merit list was likely to be rejected on the ground that he has not obtained minimum qualifying marks at viva voce test. To illustrate, a candidate who has obtained 400 marks at the written test and obtained 38 marks at the viva voce test, if considered on the aggregate of marks being 438 was likely to come within the zone of selection, but would be eliminated by the ASRB on the ground that he has not obtained qualifying marks at viva voce test. This was impermissible and contrary to Rules and the merit list prepared in contravention of the Rules cannot be sustained."

I respectfully submit that the ICAR announced in the 'Employment News' dated 20-26 September, 1996 that the Agricultural Scientist Recruitment Board will hold a competitive exam for filling the vacancies of Scientists in the ICAR institutes and of which 30 posts were meant for Scientists in the Computer Wing. I completed my M.Tech. (Computer Science) and having all other requisite Qualifications for the said post. Therefore I applied for the said post by submitting a duly filled in application and in pursuance of that I was called for attending the written test by the ASRB (Agricultural Recruitment Board). The relevant conditions laid down for the Selection in the notification are that the candidate who obtained necessary qualified marks in the written exam from recruitment rules:

Inspite of it, the honourable members of Central Administrative Tribunal rejected to look into the judgement passed by the Honourable High Court.

4. It is further submitted that according to Notification Rules, minimum marks to be prescribed only for written test but not for viva-voce. The Viva-Voce marks have to be added to the marks obtained in written test only to prepare a final ranking that. When the number of vacant posts are 30 and when the number of persons qualified in written test are 18, the marks obtained in viva-voce need not be and cannot be taken into consideration at all. Questioning the action of the respondents in not selecting me for the said post without following their own Notification Rules, I approached the Central Administrative Tribunal and filed O.A.no.1314/97 which was admitted and an interim direction was given to reserve one post for me. But unfortunately the Original Application was dismissed by holding that there is no bar in fixing minimum aggregate marks. Aggrieved by the said orders, now I am filing this present writ petition on the following among other grounds:

GROUNDS

1. Rule II (1) of the Recruitment Rules clearly shows that minimum qualifying marks have to be fixed by the Board only for written examination and when the honourable Supreme Court in its judgement reported in 1984 AIR 541 held that the minimum qualified marks for viva-voce cannot be fixed, fixing of minimum aggregate marks does not arise and the orders of honourable Central Administrative Tribunal is contrary to law, contrary to Recruitment rules and also contrary to Principles of Natural Justice.
