Dr. K.B. Suresh, Member (J):

Service jurisprudence has other applications also embedded in it other than the concern of employees concerned. The interest of governance and the ultimate public interest is also to be looked into while granting reliefs. When an officer is promoted notionally during his study leave no benefit will accrue to the general public. Rules also stipulate that only on the assumption of post he is considered to be promoted. Therefore that is what is stated in the order. He cannot have a better right than that, that is why the OA was partly allowed. There is no further merit in the OA and no merit in the R.A. R.A. is dismissed. No Costs.
