ORDER

(Per Hon'ble Mr. Justice L. Narasimha Reddy, Chairman)

Since common questions of fact and law arise in all the O.As, they are disposed of through a common order.

2. In this batch of O.As, the applicants challenge the various orders issued by the Administration of the South Central Railway (SCR, for short) effecting reservation in promotions, mostly in the category of Drivers and Guards, who are commonly known as Loco staff/ running staff. The grievance of the applicants is that the reservations in promotions are being effected indiscriminately without undertaking any exercise indicated by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in M. Nagaraj & Others vs Union of India & Others {(2006) 8 SCC 212} and that the reservations are being implemented almost at every level of the hierarchy, thereby adversely affecting the chances of promotion of other categories of employees in those cadres. The applicants have furnished the particulars of the respective dates of appointment of themselves and those of the private respondents in the respective O.As to indicate their respective places in the cadre, and have made an attempt to show that the private respondents have been conferred with the benefit of promotions, one after the other, to higher levels. The grievance is not only about the promotion from an induction stage to higher cadre but also to further higher cadres on the basis of seniority, which has accrued to the private respondents on account of the promotions made on the basis of reservation. We are not referring to the individual particulars since they are covered by the descriptions given above.

3. The applicants contend that the Article 16(4A) of the Constitution of India enables the State and its agencies to effect reservation in promotion in favour of employees belonging to Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes, together with the consequential seniority, but in the SCR, it is being treated as though it is mandatory to provide reservation at every level of promotion. They contend that the Article 16(4A) was interpreted by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Nagaraj's case holding that before any reservation in promotion under that provision to any particular post is provided, an exercise on three aspects, namely, (i) backwardness of class or category to which the employee is concerned; (ii) representation of such category of employees in the post as well as the effect on efficiency in the Administration on account of such reservation; and (iii) the verification as to creamy layer, is to be undertaken and even where a policy decision is taken after undertaking verification of these aspects, the reservation is required to be up to a particular time in the position and not as a matter of perpetuity. They contend that the SCR or for that matter, the Railways at national level, have not taken any policy decision in the context of providing reservation in promotion of employees of Scheduled Caste & Scheduled Tribe categories and virtually it is being implemented as a matter of course. Various instances of the candidates belonging to Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes stealing march over others successfully, are also furnished.

4. The applicants further contend that in the recent past, a Constitution Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Jarnail Singh & Ors. Vs Lachhmi Narain Gupta (2018) 10 SCC, 396 examined the judgement in Nagarj's case and except that the requirement of verification of the backwardness of Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes in the context of providing reservation in promotions was done away with, the rest of the parameters were reinforced, but still, the Administration did not make any change to its approach to the issue.

5. Reliance is placed by the applicants upon the judgement dated 29.4.2015 in Writ Petition Nos.39158/2013 & batch of the High Court of Andhra Pradesh, judgement dated 11.12.2018 in Writ Petition No.4415/2016 of the High Court of A.P. and the judgement dated 30.7.2015 of the Patna High Court in State of Bihar & Others vs Sushil Kumar Singh & Others { 2015 SCC Online Pat 6002 }, apart from other judgements on the issue.

6. On behalf of the SCR as well as the respective private respondents in the concerned O.As, separate counter affidavits are filed. The gist thereof is that the reservation in promotion came to be firmly established with the introduction of Article 16(4A) in the Constitution of India and that the benefit is being extended to different categories of employees, strictly in accordance with law. They contend that the very purpose of amending the Constitution providing for reservation in promotions with consequential seniority, is to enable a candidate belonging to Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe category, to acquire promotion out of turn, so that the injustice that was meted out to the community in general, is reduced to a substantial extent. It is also the case of the respondents that the promotions that have been effected in favour of the private respondents are strictly in accordance with the principles laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and that no violation has taken place.

7. We heard Sri K.R.K.V. Prasad, Sri G. Trinadha Rao, Sri J. Satya Prasad, Sri M. Bhaskar, Sri L.V. Uma Maheswara Rao, Sri B. Rajesh Kumar, Smt. Anita Swain & Sri S. Sudeep Reddy, learned counsel for the applicants, Sri N. Srinatha Rao, Sri N. Srinivasa Rao, Sri S.M. Patnaik, Smt. Vijaya Sagi, Ms. KMJD Shyama Sundari, Sri T. Hanumantha Reddy, Sri V.V.N. Narasimham, Sri M. Brahma Reddy, Sri D. Madhava Reddy & Smt. A.P. Lakshmi, learned Standing Counsel for the official respondents and Smt. S. Siva Kumari, Smt. A. Deepthi, Smt. Anita Swain, Sri J. Sudheer, Sri J. Satya Prasad, Sri R. Mahanty, Sri Siva, Sri B. Laxman, Sri P. Krishna, Sri K. Siva Reddy and Sri K.R.K.V Prasad, learned counsel for the private respondents; elaborately and in detail.

8. Learned counsel for the applicants submit that the reservation in promotions, or for that matter, the reservation in public employment itself is an exception to general rule of equality and various clauses of Article 16 are only enabling in their nature. They contend that the implementation of reservation, be it in the direct recruitment or promotion, can be introduced only when the relevant facts and situation permit and the appointing authority is under obligation to justify the same. They submit that in the context of reservation in promotion, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has issued specific guidelines in its judgement in Nagaraj's case and still they have been observed in breach by the administration of the Railways. They submit that even by now, there does not exist any policy decision, much less guidelines to be followed in the context of introduction of reservation in promotion to various categories and the reservation of this nature is being implemented at every level as a matter of course. Learned counsel submit that the recent judgement of the Supreme Court in Jarnail Singh's case [judgement dated 26.09.2018 in Jarnail Singh & Others vs Lachhmi Narain Gupta & Others {2018} 10 SCC 396], virtually repeated the parameters indicated in Nagaraj's case, except the one as to the verification of backwardness, and the respondents are under obligation to follow the guidelines so reiterated. They submit that in earlier rounds of litigation, this Tribunal had set aside the orders of promotion affecting violation of such principles, and the Hon'ble High Court at Hyderabad, apart from upholding the decision of the Tribunal, indicated specific steps to be followed. But the respondents have not implemented the same.

9. The concept of reservation in promotion, which was sought to be introduced into the Constitution met with several hurdles. The attempts made earlier were thwarted, with the provision being held to be unconstitutional and the consequential steps having been set aside. Ultimately, the Parliament amended the Constitution by introducing Article 16(4A) providing for reservation in promotion in favour of candidates belonging to Scheduled Castes/ Scheduled Tribes. Through another amendment, the concept of the 'consequential seniority' was introduced. The entire issue was dealt with extensively in Nagaraj's case by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. It is not necessary to refer to the facts therein in detail. Suffice it to mention that the provision was upheld in its entirety, but the manner in which the implementation thereof should be done, was indicated. In other words, the provision can be put into force only by undertaking the exercise indicated in the said judgement. It is beneficial to refer to the paragraphs 121 to 126, which provide the gist thereof.

“Conclusion

121. The impugned constitutional amendments by which Articles 16(4A) and 16(4-B) have been inserted flow from Article 16(4). They do not alter the structure of Article 16(4). They retain the controlling factors or the compelling reasons, namely, backwardness and inadequacy of representation which enables the States to provide for reservation keeping in mind the overall efficiency of the State administration under Article 335. These impugned amendments are confined only to SCs and STs. They do not obliterate any of the constitutional requirements, namely, ceiling limit of 50% (quantitative limitation), the concept of creamy layer (qualitative exclusion), the sub-classification between OBCs on the one hand and SCs and STs on the other hand as held in Indra Sawhney, the concept of post-based roster with inbuilt concept of replacement as held in R.K. Sabharwal.

122. We reiterate that the ceiling limit of 50%, the concept of creamy layer and the compelling reasons, namely, backwardness, inadequacy of representation and overall administrative efficiency are all constitutional requirements without which the structure of equality of opportunity in Article 16 would collapse.

123. However, in this case, as stated above, the main issue concerns the “extent of reservation”. In this regard the State concerned will have to show in each case the existence of the compelling reasons, namely, backwardness, inadequacy of representation and overall administrative efficiency before making provision for reservation. As stated above, the impugned provision is an enabling provision. The State is not bound to make reservation for SCs/ STs in matter of promotions. However, if they wish to exercise their discretion and make such provision, the State has to collect quantifiable data showing backwardness of the class and inadequacy of representation of that class in public employment in addition to compliance with Article 335. It is made clear that even if the State has compelling reasons, as stated above, the State will have to see that its reservation provision does not lead to excessiveness so as to breach the ceiling limit of 50% or obliterate the creamy layer or extend the reservation indefinitely.

124. Subject to the above, we uphold the constitutional validity of the Constitution (Seventy –seventh Amendment) Act, 1995; the Constitution (Eighty-first Amendment) Act, 2000; the Constitution (Eight-second Amendment) Act, 2000 and the Constitution (Eighty-fifth Amendment) Act, 2001.

125. We have not examined the validity of individual enactments of appropriate States and that question will be gone into in individual Writ Petition by the appropriate Bench in accordance with law laid down by us in the present case.

126. Reference is answered accordingly.”

10. From this it is clear that the first requirement is that the State must establish that there exist compelling reasons to provide reservation in promotions. Such reasons include:

- (a) the backwardness of the category of the candidates, in whose favour the reservation is to be made;
- (b) the inadequacy of their representation and overall administration efficiency.

11. A note of caution was also added that the State is not bound to make reservation for SCs/ STs in the matter of promotions, and if they wish to provide such reservation, the quantifiable data showing backwardness and inadequacy of representation in the public employment, in addition to compliance with the Article 335 must be established. The requirement as to creamy layer was also indicated. This judgement held the field all through.

12. In State of Bihar & Others vs Sushil Kumar Singh & Others { 2015 SCC OnLine Pat 6002 }, a Full Bench of the Patna High Court dealt with this very aspect in detail, with reference to the judgement in Nagaraj's case and observed as under:

“16. From this what can be culled out is that the important factors that guide the reservations under Article 16(4A) are; (a) backwardness, (b) inadequacy of representation and (c) overall efficiency of the State administration under Article-335. It is also important to note that while providing reservation or making other provisions, the State must ensure that a) the facility so created does not lead to excessiveness so as to breach the ceiling limit of 50%, b) the creamy layer excluded and denied the benefit of reservation, and c) the facility is not extended indefinitely. In effect, 6 indicia were identified and stipulated.

17. It is essential to bear in mind that the reservation provided for under Article 16 (4) is substantially different from the one under Article 16(4A). The former is a facility that enables persons to enter the State service by relaxing the norms of selection or the parameters of merit which are stipulated for the posts, in general. Through that process, a person who is otherwise not eligible to be appointed, is enabled to enter service under the State. The target group for this is unemployed persons, of certain categories. In contrast, Article-16(4A) deals with the situation where the target group is already enjoying the benefit of employment on the basis of reservation under Article-16(4), and the effort is only to push them to higher places in the hierarchy. In a way, it can be said that while Article-16(4) deals with the primary and basic aspect of protective discrimination, i.e. reservation, the one under Article-16(4A) is about the secondary aspect. Obviously, for this reason the Parliament as well as the constitutional courts have made subtle distinction and have chosen to stipulate different parameters for the two.

18. For example, the benefit under Clause-16(4) is in respect of “services under the State” whereas the objective underlying Article-16(4A) is to ensure representation of the SC/ST in the “class or classes of posts in the service under the State”. Similarly, the necessity to ensure that the efficiency in administration does not suffer, is applied with a bit of greater emphasis for the reservations under Article-16(4A) than the one under Article-16(4). These are only the broader aspects.

On facts, it was found that the representation was more than adequate and in some cases, it was 100%. Dealing with this contention of the State, it was observed:-

27. The argument advanced on behalf of the appellants that the situation obtaining at a particular time may not remain the same and after a few years it may not be possible to keep pace with changing scenario classwise or servicewise, cannot be accepted. The reason is that the facility under Article-16(4A) is not aimed at ensuring mere survival or livelihood. It results in pushing of a person most junior in the service to higher positions by stealing march over his seniors. That can be done only when the circumstances explained by the Hon’ble Supreme Court are found to be existing.

28. The appellants cannot ignore the specific language employed in Clause-4(A) indication that the reservation under it shall be in a class or classes in a service, under the State, and the service as a whole as indicated in Clause (4) of Article-16.

29. That the reservation under Article-16(4A) of the Constitution is with reference to class or classes of posts in the service under the State is evident not only from the text of the provision, but also the various judgements rendered on the subject.

30. It is also essential to keep in mind that the makers of the Constitution sounded a note of caution in Article-335 that the special measures taken for the benefit of persons belonging to SC/ ST category must be such that the efficiency in the administration is not compromised. Induction at the entry level through reservation may not pose any serious problem to administrative efficiency. The reason is that once a person with basic qualifications is inducted into service he would be subject to some training and methods as are applicable to anyone. On contrast, the reservation in promotion would render the concept such as seniority, merit irrelevant and enable a person belonging to SC/ ST category to get promotion out of turn, that too with the consequential seniority.

31. An out of turn promotion may certainly make the person happy. However, the element of frustration or dissatisfaction in the person who is superseded cannot be ignored. The efficiency of administration which is adequately protected in Article-335 of the Constitution is likely to suffer a double dent on account of out of turn promotions. The first is that a relatively inexperienced person would occupy a higher position, and second is that an otherwise experienced and senior person is subjected to an element of frustration and he may not be able to execute with the same amount of interest as he used to do in the normal circumstances. It cannot be examined from the point of view of the beneficiary alone.

32. The creamy layer is another vexed question vis-a-vis the reservations under Article-16(4A). It is true that in Indra Sawhney’s case (supra), the Hon’ble Supreme Court held that the concept of creamy layer does not apply to the reservations in favour of persons belonging to SC/ ST category. However, in Nagraj's case (supra), their Lordships observed at more places than one, that the creamy layer must be excluded from the purview of reservation under that provision. Not only from the body of the judgement, but also from the last sentence of the judgement this aspect is clear.”

The issue became the subject matter of several other judgements, across the country.

13. Over the period, doubts were expressed as to whether it is necessary at all to verify the social backwardness of employees of Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes in the context of providing reservation in promotions, particularly when the Constitution, per se, recognizes their backwardness. It is in this context, that the issue came to be dealt with by the Hon’ble Supreme Court in Jarnail Singh’s case Jarnail Singh’s case. After referring to the various aspects of the judgement in Nagaraj’s case, the Hon’ble Supreme Court concluded as under:

“21. Thus, we conclude that the judgement in Nagaraj (supra) does not need to be referred to a seven-Judge Bench. However, the conclusion in Nagaraj (supra) that the State has to collect quantifiable data showing backwardness of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes, being contrary to the nine-Judge Bench in Indra Sawhney (1) (supra) is held to be invalid to this extent.”

14. The doubt expressed as to whether it is relevant to apply the theory of creamy layer in such matters, was specifically dealt with by the Hon’ble Supreme Court in para 17 of the judgement (supra), which reads as under:

“17. Therefore, when Nagaraj (supra) applied the creamy layer test to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in exercise of application of the basic structure test to uphold the constitutional amendments leading to Articles 16(4A) and 16(4-B), it did not in any manner interfere with Parliament’s power under Article 341 or Article 342. We are, therefore, clearly of the opinion that this part of the judgement does not need to be revisited, and consequently, there is no need to refer Nagaraj (supra) to a seven-Judge Bench. We may also add at this juncture that Nagaraj (supra) is a unanimous judgement of five learned Judges of this Court which has held sway since the year 2006. This judgement has been repeatedly followed and applied by a number of judgements of this Court, namely:

- a. Anil Chandra v. Radha Krishna Gaur (2009) 9 SCC 454 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 17 & 18)
- b. Suraj Bhan Meena & Anr. V. State of Rajasthan & Ors., (2011) 1 SCC 467 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 10, 50 and 67)
- c. U.P. Power Corporation v. Rajesh Kumar & Ors., (2012) 7 SCC 1 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 61, 81(ix) and 86).
- d. S. Panneer Selvam & Ors. V. State of Tamil Nadu & Ors., (2015) 10 SCC 292 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 18, 19 and 36).
- e. Chairman & Managing Director, Central Bank of India & Ors. V. Central Bank of India SC/ ST Employees Welfare Association & Ors., (2015) 12 SCC 308 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 9 and 26)
- f. Suresh Chand Gautam v. State of U.P. & Ors., (2016) 11 SCC 113 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 2 and 45).
- g. B.K. Pavitra & Ors. v. Union of India & Ors., (2017) 4 SCC 620 (two-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 17 to 22)

Further, Nagaraj (supra) has been approved by larger Benches of this Court in:

- a. General Categories Welfare Federation v. Union of India, (2012) 7 SCC 40 (three-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 2 and 2).
- b. Rohtas Bhankar v. Union of India, (2014) 8 SCC 872 (five-Judge Bench) (See paragraphs 6 and 7).

In fact, the tests laid down in Nagaraj (supra) for judging whether a constitutional amendment violates basic structure have been expressly approved by a nine-Judge Bench of this Court in I.R. Coelho (Dead) by LRs. v. State of Tamil Nadu and Ors., (2007) 2 SCC 1 (See paragraphs 61, 105 and 142). The entirety of the decision, far from being clearly erroneous, correctly applies the basic structure doctrine to uphold constitutional amendments on certain conditions which are based upon the equality principle as being part of basic structure. Thus, we may make it clear that quantifiable data shall be collected by the State, on the parameters as stipulated in Nagaraj (supra) on the inadequacy of representation, which can be tested by the Courts. We may further add that the data would be relatable to the concerned cadre.”

15. Therefore, as the law stands today, the State is under obligation to undertake an exercise to ascertain the adequacy of representation of the SC & ST in the concerned cadres for promotion to which, the reservation is sought to be made, and apply the concept of creamy layer. For this purpose, necessary exercise need, to be undertaken, either by framing general guidelines or by addressing individual issues. Reservation in promotion cannot be implemented unless such measures are taken.

16. On certain earlier occasions, when promotions were effected by implementing reservation, affected candidates approached this Tribunal by filing various O.As and all of them were allowed. The matter landed before the High Court of A.P. in W.P. Nos. 39158/2013 & batch. After discussing the matter at length, the Hon'ble High Court ordered as under:

“VIII. CONCLUSION:

As the Tribunal has merely followed the law laid down by the Supreme Court in M. Nagaraj, in allowing the O.As, the orders of the Tribunal, to the extent it declared the action of the Railways in providing reservation in promotion without fulfilling the parameters laid down in M. Nagaraj to be illegal, do not necessitate interference. The fact however remains that, despite the amendment to the Constitution by insertion of Articles 16(4A) and (4-B) nearly fourteen years ago, the members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes still face uncertainty on whether or not they are entitled for reservation in promotion, and to be extended the benefit of consequential seniority. This predicament, they find themselves in, is for no fault of theirs but is on account of the failure of the Union of India to gather data, and form its opinion, on the parameters laid down by the Supreme Court in M. Nagaraj. The prevailing uncertainty can only be put an end to if the petitioner-Railway is directed to undertake the aforesaid exercise, and take a decision, within a specified time frame.

The Writ Petitions are, accordingly disposed of directing the petitioner-Railways to undertake and complete the exercise of gathering data, and forming its opinion on the parameters laid down by the Supreme Court in M. Nagaraj, with utmost expedition and, in any event, not later than six months from the date of receipt of a copy of this Order. As this stalemate cannot be permitted to effect railway administration, and the services it renders to the public at large, it is open to the petitioner-Railways to make in-charge arrangements in the interregnum, making it clear to those, who are given charge of the posts, that this arrangement is temporary and would continue only till the exercise of formation of opinion, on the need to provide reservation in promotion, is completed. The miscellaneous petitions pending, if any, shall also stand disposed of. No costs.”

17. Recently, the Hon'ble High Court at Hyderabad had an occasion to deal with this very issue pertaining to Railways only, after the Hon'ble Supreme Court rendered its judgement in Jarnail Singh's case. After referring the relevant paragraphs in the judgement in Jarnail Singh's case, the High Court, in its judgement dated 29.11.2018 in W.P. No.9456/2018, observed as under:

“The requirement of collecting data as to the backwardness of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes has now been done away with by the latest judgement in JARNAIL SINGH and greater emphasis has been laid on excluding the creamy layer. Reservation in promotions and consequential seniority would therefore have to be extended to these reservation categories only after completion of the said exercise. Be it noted that in terms of this exercise, the organization would have to quantify the data as to the adequacy of representation of these reservation categories in the promotional posts; assess the effect upon the efficiency of administration if such reservation is provided; examine the issue of creamy-layer as laid down in M. NAGARAJ and JARNAIL SINGH, apart from the other parameters which have been left untouched in M. NAGARAJ, and thereafter confer the benefit of reservation in promotions with or without consequential seniority, as warranted. It is only the qualification of data with regard to backwardness of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes that is now excluded in the light of the later judgement in JARNAIL SINGH, though that was one of the parameters indicated in M. NAGARAJ. The Railways are therefore bound to abide by this exercise before undertaking reservation in promotions and extending consequential seniority to such promotes. There can be no exception to this mandate.”

18. What emerges, therefore, is that before the reservation in promotion to any particular category of posts is implemented, the employer or the State is under obligation to:

- (a) undertake verification of the adequacy of representation in the posts to which the promotions are to be effected, and decide whether such reservation would have any adverse impact on the efficiency of the department;
- (b) stipulate the parameters as to the application of the concept of creamy layer; and
- (c) indicate the period up to which, the reservations so provided, are to be in force.

19. Unless a policy decision in general, or a decision with reference to a specified cadre is taken in this behalf, it cannot be said that the Article 16(4A), as interpreted by the Supreme Court is enforced properly.

20. Another aspect is that various departments have hierarchy of posts. For example, in the Engineering department, the posts may consist of Junior Engineer, Assistant Engineer, Electric Engineer, Section Engineer, Chief Engineer and Engineer in Chief. A conscious and well informed decision needs to be taken as to whether it is essential to provide reservation in promotion at every stage or at certain selected stages. For this purpose, not only the general verification or study but also the post specific verification needs to be undertaken. The exercise is required to be not a one time affair, but as a constant and continuous one. The reason is that at a given point of time, the representation of the Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes in a particular post may be wholly inadequate, and it may warrant provision of reservation to the optimum level. At a subsequent stage, the representation may be not that dissatisfactory and may need a slightly lesser push and at a still later stage, the representation may far exceed the expected level. Unless these developments are monitored constantly, the facility created under Article 16(4A) may turn out to be counterproductive, resulting in total frustration among other categories of candidates.

21. The effects of unbridled and unchecked reservation in promotions at every level, are not difficult to be imagined. If reservation in promotion is provided at every level, that too with the consequential seniority, a Junior Engineer, who is fairly lower in the seniority list, may climb to the highest position within a short time on the basis of the reservation in promotion at every level, while his seniors in the lower cadre may languish at the same position or at the most, one or two stages above. The element of frustration would certainly have its own impact upon the efficiency of the department. At the end of the day, one has to realise that the purpose of the Railway establishment is to serve the people in the best possible manner and providing reservations is incidental. A decent balance between the two, needs to be maintained. These aspects are to be taken into account by the administration.

22. We, therefore, allow the OAs directing:

1. the South Central Railway or the Railway administration, in general shall take a policy decision indicating the parameters for introduction and implementation of the reservation in promotions, which shall include:
 - (i) the verification of the representation of the category of Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribe employees in the post or cadre for promotion to which, reservation is sought to be effected and the resultant effect of any on the efficiency of the administration;
 - (ii) the manner in which the concept of creamy layer shall be applied in enforcing such reservations in promotions; and
 - (iii) the duration up to which the promotion shall be in force.
2. The views of the Association of Scheduled Caste & Scheduled Tribe employees on the one hand and the Association of employees in general on the other hand, shall be taken into account before such parameters are identified.
3. Unless and until a decision at the level of Ministry of Railways & Railway Board is taken as regards the implementation of the reservation in promotions, the same shall not be effected at the lower levels.
4. If such guidelines already exist in respect of any post or cadre, reservations in promotion can be made to such posts or cadre, duly referring to the relevant guidelines and administrative orders.
5. If any promotions have taken place contrary to the law as it exists now, it shall be open to the Railway administration to take corrective steps. Pending such action, the promotions so made shall be treated as provisional, without giving rise to any right to seniority in the promoted post.

6. The entire exercise indicated above shall be completed within a period of six months from the date of receipt of a copy of this order.

23. In almost all the O.As, Miscellaneous Applications are filed with a prayer to delete the Railway Board as a party to the O.As. After considering the matter at length, we are of the view that the presence of the Railway Board is very much essential since policy decisions are to be taken. Therefore, we reject the prayer made in the M.As. All the other M.As shall also stand disposed of.

24. There shall be no order as to costs.
